VILLA JOINS CARRANZA FOE

FIELD AGAINST WOOD IN G. O. P. PARI-MUTUEL

Race Simmers Down to Three Entries.

INDIANA.

Approximately full reports received last night from the Indiana primaries of Tuesday, comprising 3,111 precincts out of 3,387 in the state, give:

Wood	80,478
Johnson	72,062
Lowden	36,341
Harding	18,777
Wood's lead	8,416

CALIFORNIA.

5,033 precincts out of 5,724 in state give:

Johnson	405,525
Hoover	193,626
Johnson's lead	211,899

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The Republican presidential primaries, now virtually ended, have developed three major contenders for the nomination at Chicago, Wood, Johnson, and Lowden, none of whom is anywhere near a majority of the national convention delegates.

The convention fight now passes into the stage of political maneuvering which will continue until the Republican candidate is named either as the result of a stampede of the delegates or of a compromise agreement reached by the leaders between ballots.

In the primaries Gen. Wood has won the greatest number of instructed delegates, while Senator Johnson has rolled up the largest popular vote.

Johnson Has Popular Vote.

With California and Indiana still incomplete in the returns, Johnson has a popular vote of 717,513 in thirteen states, Wood 603,059 in twelve states, and Lowden 355,556 in five states.

By carrying New Jersey, Maryland, and Indiana, Gen. Wood has enhanced his prestige, and the fight is now more than ever "the field against Wood." The nomination of Johnson is not regarded within the realm of probability, though it is conceded he will be in a position to exert a powerful influence in the choice of the candidate.

The Wood managers are confident the old guard will be less powerful in this convention than heretofore and that it will be unable to stem the tide of public sentiment relied upon to compass the nomination of the general.

See Lowden as Compromise.

On the other hand, the Lowden managers figure the Wood forces will be dissipated by the early balloting, after which the Illinois governor will occupy a position of such strategic strength that the favorite son and uninstructed delegates will flock to his standard and the old guard will clamber aboard the Lowden band wagon.

Dark horses will not get a chance unless Wood or Lowden fails to land. The Republican leaders opposed to Wood are saying it will be either Lowden or a dark horse, and they are promoting the boom for Senator Knox as a compromise candidate.

The Chairmanship.

In the interest of harmony Republican leaders here have framed a plan to settle the convention chairmanship controversy on the lines of a compromise proposing:

That the temporary chairmanship, carrying with it the honor of making the keynote speech, be conferred upon Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

That Senator Borah of Idaho, who has been put forward by the Johnson factions and the treaty irreconcilables, withdraw from the contest for either chairmanship.

That the progressives and irreconcilables be permitted to select the permanent chairman of the convention, with former Senator Albert J. Beveridge looming as their probable choice.

Can Appease Borah.

Senator Borah, it is understood, is willing to get out of the contest provided the progressives and irreconcilables be allowed to pick either the permanent or the temporary chairman, preferably the latter.

The Johnson leaders expect to have a conference probably tomorrow to discuss the chairmanship. Senator Johnson himself will be present.

Senator Borah announced today that he is going to revive his fight against swollen campaign funds, with particular reference to the charges of big expenditures by Wood boomers.

$75,000 THEFT OF LEATHER IS LAID TO HUGE PLOT

Stolen Goods Sold as 'Bargains,' Charge.

Four men, accused of having conspired in the theft of more than $75,000 worth of leather, were arrested last night upon complaint of officers of the American Hide and Leather company.

One of the men is said to have confessed. His statement is said to have divulged that a systematic robbery has been practised upon the company for more than a year.

The names of men prominent in the leather industry in a number of cities over the country are said to be connected with the thefts. These are said to have profited greatly through "bargain prices" in leather goods.

Discovered a Month Ago.

The discovery was made about a month ago that leather had been stolen in the last year from the branch at 1330 Elston avenue. After their arrest yast night the three men were taken to the detective bureau and questioned.

Three of the men under arrest are: Adam Benkenowski, 3335 North Springfield avenue, foreman of the branch shop.

John Ptaszynski, 1101 Cornell street, employed in the shop.

Edward Schiff, a brother-in-law of Benkenowski.

Fourth Suspect Seized.

A fourth suspect was taken into custody shortly before midnight and his identity has not yet been disclosed.

Benkenowski, who has a wife and four children, was seized in Blue Island and Ptaszynski in South Chicago.

A full check on the missing leather has not been completed, but it was estimated the value of the goods stolen will reach $75,000, if not $100,000.

HOUSE TO DECIDE SUFFRAGE FATE FOR DELAWARE

Dover, Del., May 5.—The resolution to ratify the proposed federal woman suffrage amendment, which had been in committee since March 24, was adopted by the senate today on the reassembling of the state legislature after a recess of two weeks. The vote was 11 to 6.

Only two Republicans voted against the measure and only one Democrat supported it. Suffragists cheered after the vote was announced.

It is proposed to send the resolution to the house tomorrow, where speedy action is expected. Although the house defeated a similar resolution on April 1, 22 to 9, suffragist leaders claim to have increased their strength sufficiently to assure the concurrence of the house in the senate measure.

Anti-suffragists deny this, and declare sentiment in the house against ratification is as strong as ever and that the measure will be defeated.

Ask Favorable Vote.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Resolutions urging the Delaware legislature to ratify the suffrage amendment were adopted tonight by the Republican congressional committee and transmitted to the speaker of the house at Dover.

Kaiserin to Be Godmother to Almshouse Child

THE HAGUE, May 5.—Last week the kaiserin visited the almshouses at Amerongen. Finding the head of the women's almshouse ill and unable to care for her small child, the ex-kaiserin promised to become its godmother. The child will bear the name of the ex-kaiserin, who will perhaps assist at the christening.

Evanston Janitors Double Their Rates

Evanston janitors motored to a union meeting yesterday and after great deliberation, decided to double their rates for two flat buildings. They now charge $12.50 a month per building. They say they must have $25, due to the increased cost of automobile maintenance.

COAL MEN ASK INJUNCTION TO HALT TRIALS

Attack Indictments Under Lever Act.

Individual suits asking that the United States government, through its officials, be restrained from prosecuting the fifteen Chicago coal operators recently indicted in Indianapolis for violation of the Lever act were filed in United States District court here yesterday. Similar suits were filed by indicted operators in St Louis, Toledo, Cleveland, and other cities.

In the local suits, which challenge the constitutionality of the Lever act, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, Special Assistant Attorneys General Dan W. Sims and L. Ert Slack of Indianapolis, District Attorneys Charles F. Clyne of Chicago and Frederick Van Nuys of Indianapolis and United States Marshal John J. Bradley of Chicago are named as defendants.

Followed Fuel Chief's Orders.

Charges that the prosecutions were attempted in order to effect a break in the relations of the operators and the United Mine Workers of America, and a claim that all the arrangements between the mine operators and the miners objected to by the government resulted from orders of the fuel administration and were made with the consent of the department of justice, are among the points set forth in the forty-one page petition.

The petition gives a detailed history of all wage scale negotiations since the agreement of March 9, 1916, and dwells considerably on the situation confronting the operators at the time of the strike of last November.

Increased Production.

The petition protests the government's charge that the operators "conspired to limit production and transportation" of coal, pointing out that at the request of the fuel administration production during the war was increased far beyond any previous records of the country and that that ratio of production had been maintained even after the war had ended, some 200,000,000 tons out of the national total of 580,000,000 being produced in the central district fields.

The charges made by the government for "excessive prices" being collected for coal sold are declared indefinite by the petition, which also states that much damage already has been done to the coal industry in general owing to the inability of the operators to decide just what price would be considered exorbitant.

Attacks Lever Law.

The same accusation is directed against the Lever law as the enforcing act. "These provisions," the petition asserts, "are so vague, indefinite, and uncertain that they cannot have the force or effect of law within the meaning of the constitution of the United States, particularly the fifth amendmen," and that any penalties exacted under that statute "would constitute the taking of property or the deprivation of liberty without due process of law."

These Men File Suits.

The plaintiffs in the individual suits are:

FRANCIS S. PEABODY, chairman of the board of the Peabody Coal company and chairman of the coal production committee of the Council of National Defense during the war.

G. H. WHITSETT, Black Comet Coal company.

J. K. DERING, J. K. Dering Coal company.

R. W. COUFFER, 1701 Fisher building.

J. C. MUREN, Muren Coal company.

JOHN T. CONNERY, president of Miami Coal company.

H. A. HUSKEY, Ridge Mining company.

WALTER S. BOGLE, Bogle Coal company.

THOMAS KELLER, Indiana-Illinois Coal corporation.

DR. FRED C. HONNOLD, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators' association.

C. M. MODERWELL, C. M. Moderwell & Co.

G. B. HARRINGTON, Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal company.

E. C. SEARLES, Illinois Coal Operators' association.

ROBERT E. LEE, Consolidated Indiana company.

Lewis Gives Bond.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, surrendered to a United States marshal yesterday at Indianapolis on a federal indictment. He was released on $10,000 bond.

Mr. Lewis and mine union officials from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, and western Pennsylvania will appear before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson today, accompanied by Charles E. Hughes, special counsel for the United Mine Workers.

COMMONS 'BOOS' BOTTOMLEY FOR ASTOR ATTACK

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.] [Copyright: 1920.]

LONDON, May 5.—The attack upon Lady Astor made today by Horatio Bottomley in his weekly, "John Bull," led to a demonstration in the house of commons in support of Lady Astor.

In a recent debate in the commons Lady Astor spoke against the bill making such actions as desertion or habitual drunkenness sufficient cause for divorce and expressed the opinion that "in America, where the states have such easy divorce," women had not been the gainers.

Bottomley today in his leading article denounced this as "rank hypocrisy." He pointed out that Lady Astor herself divorced her first husband, Robert Gould Shaw II., in 1903, and quoted from the New York Herald of Feb. 5, 1903, to support his allegation that her divorce was collusive and that "the cause cited in her original petition was simply that of desertion, although, as I shall show you in a moment, by arrangement between her and her husband, further 'statutory reasons'—that is, according to the law of Virginia—were at a late stage introduced."

Consequently, Bottomley called upon Lady Astor "to avail herself without delay of the privilege which the house of commons always extends in such circumstances to members and to tender personal explanation."

Lady Astor entered the commons during question time this afternoon and as she moved quietly to her seat she was greeted by a volley of cheers. She made no acknowledgment, but the demonstration was taken as meaning the house resented deeply the attack made on her. Bottomley, who was sitting a few yards away from her, rose a few minutes later to put a question and had to face some booing.

You Can Get Camel Hump in Paris at Five Francs

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.] [Copyright: 1920.]

PARIS, May 5.—Paris has taken to experimenting in strange foods. Lion steaks were served at a luncheon party in a famous restaurant. Now humps of camel are being offered for sale in Montmartre. Where the camel came from is something of a mystery, but the keeper of a private zoo, hit by the high cost of living, is suspected of having made a sacrifice. When dressed the animal provided 700 pounds of good meat. For the cheapest parts 3 francs per pound is to be charged; hump will go at 5 francs and filet 8 francs.

CHILD, "TREATED" OVERPHONE, DIES; FATHER GUILTY

Jury Convicts; He Spurns Medical Aid.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—A verdict of guilty of manslaughter was given tonight against Andrew Walker of Newark by the jury trying him in Newark on the charge that he was guilty of gross negligence in allowing his 9 year old daughter Dorothy to die of diphtheria without medical attention, although he caused her to be "treated" over the telephone and personally by Christian Science practitioners.

At the same time the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of the mother of the girl, whose acquittal was directed by Judge Osborne on the ground that the father was the responsible head of the family, and that the wife was subservient to the husband in matters of family welfare.

Should Have Had Doctor.

Assistant Prosecutor John A Bernhard made his principal argument for conviction of the father on the point that, while the father was free to follow his own views and have himself treated in any way he saw fit, he had no right to deprive his daughter of the benefit of medical science

Mr Bernhard reviewed the evidence in the case, which showed the Christian Science healer had accepted the diagnosis that the child, stricken with diphtheria, had only a cold and that he had thereupon given such "treatment" as he considered suitable over the phone

Gives "Absent Treatment"

Frederick Webber, a real estate dealer of Newark, who is also a "healer," testified his first connection with the case had been an absent treatment Webber said that he and his co-believers did not believe that there was any such thing as diphtheria and that diphtheria was only "a claim"

Webber admitted he received fees for his telephonic and other faith healing work The prosecutor pictured the little girl as having been deprived of her life, under these circumstances, by a disease, which is nearly always fatal when neglected and is nearly always cured, when promptly and properly treated.

Had Heard of "Cures."

The girl's father testified that even had the medical authorities of New Jersey compelled him to obtain a physician's skill in caring for his daughter and taken her out of the hands of the Christian science "healers," he would still have let Christian science "heal" her.

At the beginning of his testimony Walker stated that he had often attended "testimony" meetings of the Christian Science church and had heard of innumerable "cures" effected.

"I have heard of cures of consumption, of liver and heart affections, and fevers of many kinds," he said. "I believe these cures were made."

Walker stated that both he and his wife had been "cured" of colds, extreme headaches, and nervousness. For seven years, he said, all the ills of his children (there is only one left now) had been cured by Christian Science "healers." He told of one cure effected in the case of a daughter of his wife's sister. She had cut her knee so severely that she could not bend it.

"Return Your Car" Bandits Bind, Gag, Rob Autoist

The "return your car" bandits of last summer picked out Adolph C. Schoppen of 5444 South Hermitage avenue last night. They leaped on his running board at Garfield boulevard and Loomis street and ordered him to slow down. He was bound and gagged and robbed of $50. After driving about three miles the robbers dumped him out in a prairie.

"We know you, Mr. Schoppen," said one of the robbers. "Don't worry. You'll get your car in the morning. We'll call you up and let you know where to find it."

ANTHRAX KILLS FIVE; FACTORY ORDEREDCLOSED

Rare Disease Brought In by Argentine Hair.

Five persons have been killed by anthrax, a rare and virulent disease, recently, the health department learned yesterday; and Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson has closed the factory of the Chicago Curled Hair company at 2301 South Paulina street. He believes the disease was contracted from handling hair imported from the Argentine. Three of the five dead were employés of the company.

One of the victims is believed to have taken the disease from the use of a shaving brush.

Today an investigation of the plant will be made, and any employé with a suspicious ailment will be given expert medical attention at once. All firms that have purchased hair from the company recently are being warned to be "extremely" careful in its use.

List of Victims.

The dead are:

KOSTANDI WYCHULIS, 2130 West Twenty-second street, employé of the hair company, died March 12.

ANTON KOSIK, 2352 Blue Island avenue, employé of the company, died April 25.

LEOPOLD KRZEMIEN, 3203 Fox street, employé of the company, died May 4.

WILLIAM FUKA, 15 years old, 1903 South May street, died Dec. 13.

LEOPOLD MEPS, 6429 South Wood street, employed by Swift & Co., died Jan. 2.

The Fuka boy was taken to the county hospital at 3 o'clock in the morning. He died three hours later. It is not known where or how he became infected.

Carried in Shaving Brush.

It is Meps who is believed to have contracted anthrax through the use of a shaving brush. He used this particular brush for the first time Christmas day. On Dec. 29 a sore broke out on his face. He was taken to the hospital at 10 o'clock New Year's night and died in three hours.

Kosic strangled to death despite the efforts of physicians.

Dr. F. W. Paine, Miss Fern Andre, supervisor of nurses, and Miss Bernice Murphy, a nurse, were present when an incision was made in Kosic's throat and a tube inserted so he might breathe. The hands of the surgeon and the nurses were spattered with blood. A disinfectant was used, but a few days later a rash appeared on Miss Murphy's hands.

Disease Works Rapidly.

Dr. Roger Vaughan, night warden of the county hospital, said that the deaths of Kosic and Krzemien resulted from infection from South American hair or wool.

"The disease works with amazing rapidity," he said.

Dr. Robertson does not anticipate that the disease will be spread outside the plant. He believes the infected employés had handled hair or wool not properly disinfected.

Company Head Objects.

Bernard Horwich, president of the hair company, asserted Dr. Robertson acted without full knowledge of the facts.

"Anthrax is a sheep disease," he said. "We have no sheep's wool in our factory. We use only cow, pig, and horse hair and 80 per cent of it is domestic.

"We have been twenty-five years in the business without a case of this disease. If there is bacteria in the hair it is in the raw hair and as soon as that is received at our factory it is boiled in lysol for three hours, which thoroughly disinfects it.

"A health department physician told me this afternoon that the deaths were probably caused by ordinary blood poisoning."

Motor Safety Sleuths to Begin Soon on South Side

With the approval and coöperation of Chief Garrity 500 operatives of the Chicago Motor Safety league, of which Judge John Stalk is president, will begin reporting traffic violations by motorists on the south side within the next ten days. The men will wear stars, but will not carry arms or make arrests. They will call policemen to make the arrests. The men will work under direction of Frank J. Shead, president of the Shead Lumber association. Chief Garrity has furnished the league with a list of 2,000 former members of the police reserves from which to pick its men, and will issue a circular letter to all stations asking coöperation.

24 Hurt When 5th Avenue Bus Tips Over in Gotham

TO LEAD 10,000 TO OBREGON FOR BIG ATTACK

Six U. S. Destroyers Off to Caribbean.

BULLETIN.

Nogales, Ariz., May 5.—Gen. Angel Flores, revolutionary commander in Sinaloa, will attack Mazatlan, the principal saeport of the state, with a formidable force in a few days, according to Americans who arrived from the coast state today.

Nogales, Ariz., May 5.—Francisco Villa, with 2,000 men, joined the revolutionary forces today at San Romico, Chihuahua, according to reports received today. Villa, it is said, will bring 10,000 supporters to the side of Obregon.

From Hermosillo today comes the report that Capt. José de la Llave, with marines in two boats, attacked the federal steamer Korrigan II., near Santa Rosalia, Lower California, and after two hours' fighting captured the ship and the entire crew.

One of the ship's defenders was killed and four were wounded. The marines are expected in Guaymas shortly with the captured vessel. The Korrigan II. was commanded by Maj. Losano of the Carranza army.

Villa's Revolt Confirmed.

El Paso, Tex., May 5.—Gen. Antonio I. Villareal, former governor of Nuevo Leon and manager in northern Mexico of Gen. Obregon's presidential campaign, tonight said he had been officially informed that Villa had offered his services and that in all probability they would be accepted by Gov. de la Huerta. He said he did not think Villa would be intrusted with a command.

It was reliably reported here today that Gen. Obregon, from Chilpancingo, south of Mexico City, had formally announced his leadership of the military movement to oust President Carranza.

SEVEN WARSHIPS DEPART

New York, May 5.—Six destroyers, accompanied by the tender Black Hawk, left their anchorage with the Atlantic fleet in the Hudson river at 2 p. m. today and sailed for Key West for possible duty in Mexican waters.

The destroyers are the Isherwood, Case, Lardner, Putnam, Dale and Reid. The flotilla is commanded by Capt. Byron Long on the tender Black Hawk, which will accompany the flotilla.

CARRANZA'S DOOM SEEN

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Recognition of Carranza's rapidly diminishing power in Mexico was admitted by government officials today, but the dispatch of a flotilla of destroyers to southern waters was not taken to indicate that foreigners are in immediate danger.

The six destroyers which sailed from New York will arrive at Key West tomorrow, and will be used along the east coast only in the event that necessity arises.

Before this departure, Capt. Byron Long, commanding the flotilla, conferred with the secretary of the navy, who gave him instructions as to the policy to be pursued.

Deserters Mean Downfall.

Development of the revolution as reported to the government has been so rapid as to convince many officials, and especially army officers, that Carranza cannot maintain his authority much longer, not so much because he is opposed by a formidable military force as because he commands an army that is daily dissolving before the rebels' advance instead of offering battle.

Information obtained through official channels has been the basis of an estimate that places the strength of the rebels at almost double that of the government.

Rebel claims that Carranza would have difficulty now in leaving the country are supported by reports from official sources.

See President Trapped.

East and west coast ports are closed to him by the operations of rebel units along the connecting lines. His entry into the United States might yet be effected over the long line of railroad from the capital to Laredo, and the possibility of escape through the Tehuantepec isthmus into Guatemala remains, although such a route is lined with rebels.

Information here continued to indicate the bloodless character of the revolution. The southward rebel movement along the west coast was continued, but no reports of any engagements were received.

The request for naval protection at ports on the east coast was construed by the government as precautionary.

Although no overt act has been recorded in the vicinity of any of the ports, it is understood British consular officers concurred with American representatives that ships should be available near Tampico, Tuxpan, Vera Cruz, and Fronteras to afford a refuge for foreigners if conflicts made temporary retirement advisable.

The Mexican government, according to mail advices to the department of commerce, has increased the export duty on petroleum from 30 cents to 54 cents a ton. The message did not say when the new tariff would become effective.

PLANES BOMB REBELS

El Paso, Tex., May 5.—The entire state of Morelos is in the hands of the revolutionists, according to advices received here today by Arturo Elias, brother of Gen. P. Elias Calles, commander in chief of the revolutionary army of the northwest.

Cuernavaca, the capital, and Cuautla have been bombarded by Carranza airplanes, Senor Elias was advised.

They Switch Easily.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Ramon P. de Negri, until recently Carranza's consul general in New York, announced today his complete break with the Carranza government and his adherence to the Sonora revolutionary movement. He has accepted the post of commercial agent in New York for the Mexican revolutionary movement and will leave tomorrow for Sonora.

"BLUEBEARD" SAYS HE'S SANE AND MURDERER?

Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—Walter Andrew Watson, alias James R. Hurt, alleged self-confessed bigamist and murderer, has no intention of pleading insanity, according to a statement issued tonight by his attorney, J. Morgan Marmaduke, and would be disappointed if in his case there was any verdict other than "one of guilty of murder in the first degree."

The county grand jury has been ordered to convene tomorrow to consider the case.

Political Bullfight Riot Fatal to 1; 3 Hurt

[By Special Cable.]

LISBON, May 5.—At this afternoon's bull fight there was a monarchist demonstration when Toreador José Casimiro, monarchist supporter and popular idol, was prohibited from participating.

Placards outside announced Casimiro physically was unfit to fight bulls, but when the toreador appeared as a spectator the crowd went wild.

When a substitute toreador, matadors, and horses entered the ring the crowd commenced firing revolvers and cheering Casimiro and the monarchists.

Three were wounded and one killed as a result of the shots.

De La Huerta Says He'll Make Mexico Bone Dry

Nogales, Ariz., April 5.—The announcement of Gov. de la Huerta that he intends to make Mexico bone dry threw consternation into the ranks of Americans who have been fitting up modern cafés in Nogales, Sonora, in anticipation of an early lifting of the lid. Wholesale liquor dealers across the line declare their belief that the danger of prohibition has been grossly exaggerated.

Widow's Fund of $18,500 Lost in New York Subway

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—A woman whose husband died recently and left $18,500 as the sole means of support for their two invalid children had the whole amount stolen from her or she lost it in the subway as she was on her way to deposit the sum in the bank. The money was made up of eighteen bills of $1,000 and five bills of $100 each.

Phœnix, Ariz., Greets Chicago Business Men

Phoenix, Ariz., May 5.—The delegation of the Chicago Association of Commerce today took a three hours' trip through the Salt river valley. The Chicagoans viewed cotton fields and citrus groves, where a few years ago all was a sandy desert. The travelers were the guests of the Phoenix business men. They left at 6 o'clock for Los Angeles.

W.H.Brokaw Found Guilty of Murdering His Wife

Norfolk, Va., May 5.—[Special.]—Wilson H. Brokaw of Chicago, 66 years old, tried here for the murder of his wife, Wilda, was found guilty of murder in the second degree tonight. Mrs. Brokaw was killed with a hatchet at Camp Eustis, Va., on Jan. 6.

ORIGIN OF COFFEE

Legend ascribes the discovery of the beneficial properties of coffee to a flock of sheep.

Accidentally browsing on wild coffee shrubs, they became highly elated and extremely frisky.

It remained for man to add nourishment to stimulation by blending coffee with milk and cream.

WILSON RULING UPSETS PALMER FIGHT ON REDS

Puts O. K. on Communist Labor Party.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Secretary of Labor Wilson today put a damper on Attorney General Palmer's campaign against bolshevists by ruling that membership in the Communist Labor party does not constitute ground for the deportation of aliens.

Sometime ago Mr. Wilson decided that membership in the Communist party, which advocates the overthrow of the existing form of government by force, does constitute ground for deportation. He finds that the Communist Labor party does not advocate resort to force.

Assistant Attorney General Garvan said that this ruling spells failure for the campaign to deport the alien Reds.

"Every alien," he added, "every I. W. W. and Communist can become a member of the Communist Labor party with perfect safety so far as deportation is concerned without abandoning one of his theories or his purposes."

Mr. Garvan said it had been planned to carry out extensive raids on the Communist Labor party, but this move has been abandoned as a result of Secretary Wilson's decision.

Decision by Mr. Wilson.

"The belief in teaching and advocacy of the class struggle, mass action, the conquest of political power, the dictatorship of the proletariat, socialism, communism, the one big union, shop committees, shop stewards, and other social, industrial, economic and political changes mentioned in the Communist Labor party platform and program, however reprehensive these things may be to the minds of any or all of our people, do not bring the organization within the purview of the act, as long as it does not propose to use force or violence to accomplish the purpose," Secretary Wilson said.

"If the American people are left free to discuss and decide the questions presenting themselves for consideration from today uninfluenced by the threat of force or violence, they can be relied upon to protect themselves against any false philosophy, wild eyed revolutions, or dictatorships of any kind."

The action of Secretary Wilson is viewed as strongly backing up Assistant Secretary of Labor Post, whose impeachment or removal from office is being sought on the ground of shielding alien reds from deportation. Mr. Post has canceled 1,400 deportation warrants for members of the Communist party.

WON'T STOP TRIALS HERE

The decision of Secretary of Labor Wilson regarding the Communist Labor party will not affect the trial next week of William Bross Lloyd and thirty-seven associate members of that party, according to State's Attorney Hoyne and assistants last night.

"The secretary of labor is not a court of law," the state's attorney declared, "consequently his decisions cannot be considered in the light of judicial rulings or as evidence. I cannot see how they can affect us."

"What Secretary Wilson bases his decision on is beyond me," declared Assistant State's Attorney Marvin Barnhart, who is handling the prosecutions. "There is no essential difference between the Communist Labor party and the Communist party. Both advocate the teaching of the Third International at Moscow. Their creed is the same. Our trials will proceed."

Decision Expected, Lloyd Says.

"We expected it," was the comment of William Bross Lloyd. "Even federal officials are seeing a little light these days, and presidential propaganda can't impress those before whom the true facts have been placed. We are not afraid of the result of our trial in Chicago."

"Of course, we don't advocate the overthrow of the government by force," Arthur Proctor, secretary of the Cook county branch of the Communist Labor party, said. "That impression all emanates from Attorney General Palmer. He has been figuring on walking all the way to the White House on a Red carpet, but he won't."

Crowell in Talk Here Urges Air Branch.

"If we are sufficiently prepared in the air I am positive that it would be absolutely impossible for any foreign foe to menace this country."

[Photo Copyright Clinedinst.]

This statement was made yesterday before the weekly luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce by Benedict Crowell, assistant secretary of war. The luncheon was held in the Hotel La Salle.

"We know the military mind is usually conservative, and that soldiers have always been unprogressive in the things pertaining to their art," Mr. Crowell said. "But we know that aviation is regarded by soldiers and sailors as a useful adjunct to the army and to the fleet. But it is more than that. It is a branch of service that has its own mission to fulfill.

"It should be made an offensive and defensive arm, separate and distinct from the army and navy. We should be able to control the air, and if we were sufficiently prepared in this way I am fully convinced that it would be absolutely impossible for any foreign foe to menace our nation.

"The aviation department should be made separate from the war and navy departments, with a secretary of aviation in charge, and this department should be co-equal with the other departments which have so much to do with national offense and defense."

Mr. Crowell also referred to the use of gas, asserting it was the most humane method of modern fighting. Hardly one case of permanent injury resulted from gas during the war, he said.

REDS PLUNDER KIEV AS POLES KNOCK AT GATE

WARSAW, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—Russian bolshevik soldiers are reported to be looting houses and stores at Kiev preparatory to abandoning the city. Polish military authorities plan to occupy Kiev late this week.

Reds Get Lots of Oil.

LONDON, May 5.—Great quantities of oil fell into the hands of the Russian bolshevik forces when they captured Baku, on the west coast of the Caspian sea, April 28, according to an official statement under Tuesday's date received today from Moscow.

The Red troops, the statement says, captured 300,000 poods of benzine (a pood equals 36.07 pounds); 25,000,000 poods of kerosene; 2,000,000 poods of gasoline; 1,250,000 poods of lubricating oil; 115,000,000 poods of mazout and eighty poods of crude oil.

A bolsheviki communication, issued Tuesday, dealing with the operations with the Poles says:

"In the region of Kiev our troops are fortifying themselves in new positions west of that city."

Turk Bandit Seized as Kidnaper of 2 Americans

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—A bandit chieftain named Abrahim has been arrested at Aleppo, Syria, charged with the murder of James Perry and Frank Johnson, two American Y. M. C. A. men near Aintab, on Feb. 4.

MOSLEM FERVOR MARKS TURKISH FOURTH OF JULY

High Priest Exhorts People Against British.

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

ANGORA, Anatolia, April 22, by Courier to Paris, May 4.—This day probably will go down in history as the Turkish Fourth of July.

I witnessed the first meeting of the congress of the provisional nationalist government, composed of men who are leaders in their districts, and who have pledged themselves to work and fight for the independence of Turkey until the allied troops have left Anatolian soil or the Turks are under it.

"Give me liberty or give me death," is the story of the movement.

Plenty of Hardy Soldiers.

There is ample man power adapted to fighting in a mountainous environment difficult of invasion. Countless herds of beef and mutton graze in the hills, the valleys are green with young wheat, and there is more than enough for the Turks, who, when they fight, subsist on next to nothing. There seems to be no shortage of ammunition.

I have seen thousands of men with at least a hundred rounds strapped about them, carrying it always, in order to harden themselves for the campaign. It is for sale in the stores. The stocks are coming from some source. The nationalists are not worrying about supplies.

They are fully cognizant of the internal situation in the various European nations, and are convinced the odds are in their favor. Already they claim control of nearly all Turkey, and now they are organizing a government to administer it.

Exhorted by High Priest.

Of special significance was this morning's muezzen's calls of the faithful to prayer. In the central ancient mosque general and private without discrimination sat cross-legged wherever there was room on the carpeted mosaic and listened to the khoja lecturing. He talked for an hour, not on religion but on the situation.

Later the members of the congress assembled in the room of the normal school and sat at desks taken from the schoolroom, still smelling of black paint and bearing the hieroglyphic initials carved by Turkish boys. They chose Shabfey temporary chairman. Beside the chair stood the bent khoja. Upon his desk rested the casket on which lay a hair "from the beard of the prophet." Above the khoja's head hung the motto in Arabic:

"Begin with the name of God the merciful and beneficent."

Allies Cause of Turk Rising.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the leader, mounted the rostrum and began with the statement the allies had ignored Mr. Wilson's fourteen points in the decision on a Turkish peace. He traced the history of the nationalist movement to the actions of the allies which he thought caused it.

The khoja asserted they shouldn't think about a successor to the caliphate who was a prisoner of the English in Constantinople but strive unceasingly to liberate him. Neither should they desire a republic. What the situation demanded was a provisional government.

One hundred and twenty-four representatives were present, among them fifty members of parliament who came clandestinely from Constantinople. The deputies were elected under the same system in vogue in the government of Stamboul. Among them are Jala Lud Dnarif Bey, speaker of the parliament in Constantinople, a man of 270 pounds, who rode the entire distance on horseback.

Gen. Fouzy Pasha is minister of war. The rest of the cabinet are Fuad Pasha, Abdul Halim Effendi, the head of the Molai order, whose religious influence is second only to the caliph; Jami Bey, and a representative of Djema Leddin Effendi, head of the Baktashi and Soufian dervishes.

SYRIANS, DENIED BRITISH PASSES, FLOCK TO U. S.

Dirty Men Coming to Live on Public.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BEIRUT, May 2.—[Delayed.]—More than 200 Syrians refused passports the last month to England as undesirable immigrants now are on their way to the United States.

The majority are getting to the United States on the plea of seeing relatives, a reason making it virtually obligatory for the American consuls to visé passports of foreigners. The need of unskilled labor in the United States also has caused a modification of immigration restrictions.

"Buy and Sell Things."

American consulates throughout the near east are crowded with dirty, ragged men and women, all trying to get to America, and as there are few if any who cannot produce the necessary evidence, which in many cases is very uncertain, that they have relatives in America, there is no authority to deny them passports. One can ask any of these people what they want to go to America for, and they usually reply: "To make money." Ask them how, and they will answer: "Buy and sell things."

I have yet to meet any who intends to work with his hands or actually produce something.

Why British Refused.

British officials tell me that this is the reason they have been refused admission to England. A British vice consul told me that many of those whom he knows are on their way to America produced questionable evidence to show they had relatives in England, and when this evidence was investigated they turned to the United States consul.

NOSKE BERATES 'COYNESS' OF THE REPUBLIC'S ARMY

BERLIN, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—"Your so-called republican soldiers failed to come forward when the young republic was in danger and as a result I was forced to fall back on the kaiser's soldiers," Gustave Noske, former minister of defense, told his comrades at the opening session of the Social Democratic conference sitting in the reighstag.

The former "strong man" of the revolution made a powerful defense of his military measures after the so-called Noske system had been subjected to lively criticism by Philipp Scheidemann, former secretary for foreign affairs. Noske accused Vowaerts, the Socialist newspaper, of suppressing recruiting calls officially issued. He said Gen. Erhardt, who commanded the Baltic naval brigade during the recent revolt, should be stood up against the wall and shot.

AFTER FIGHTING BRITISH SEIZE GERMAN REDS

COBLENZ, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—Several Reds were killed and many wounded when a band of about fifty from near Dusseldorf broke through a detachment of Reichswehr last night and entered British occupied territory. There they were interned.

Trouble Near Dusseldorf.

COPENHAGEN, May 5.—Armed bands in the neighborhood of Suchtein and Viersen, suburbs of Düsseldorf, have collided with the reichswehr, security police and municipal police, according to a semi-official dispatch from Duesseldorf today.

The bands lost two killed and four wounded and the remainder were driven back to the occupied territory and disarmed.

WE'RE WAITING TO INSPECT YOU: LEAGUE TO LENIN

Facilities for Board of Inquiry Asked.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.
[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]
[Copyright: 1920.]

PARIS, May 5.—It is announced that Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the league of nations, has sent to Moscow a telegram asking for a definite statement of the soviet government's attitude toward the proposal to send a league of nations commission into Russia. This commission would consider the advisability of recognizing the government of Lenin and Trotzky No definite reply ever has been received from Moscow since the proposal first was made. Sir Eric desires to know officially the attitude of the soviet chiefs before the next meeting of the executive council of the league. This will be held in Rome on May 14.

Commission Named.

The statement issued from the headquarters of the league sets forth that on March 17 the following telegram was sent to Moscow:

"The council of the league of nations, having been invited to send a commission into Russia, has named a commission to gather impartial and authoritative information upon actual conditions of the country.

Complete Freedom Demanded.

"The permanent secretariat of the league is instructed to ask the soviet authorities if they are disposed to accord this commission the right to pass freely the soviet frontiers; to take measures to assure its complete freedom of movement and investigation and to guarantee absolute immunity and dignity of its members, as well as inviolability of their correspondence, their records, and their effects. The commission will begin its activities as soon as these facilities and these rights shall have been completely assured by the soviet authorities."

TREND IN HOUSE SEEMS AGAINST SOLDIER BONUS

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—A warning that economy in all lines of governmental expenditures is necessary was sounded in the house today by Representative Fess of Ohio. While Mr. Fess made no mention of soldiers' bonuses the inference was drawn that he believed legislation along this line is impracticable.

Representative Fess read from replies to a questionnaire sent to public officials in all parts of the country which showed a strong sentiment in favor of a national budget system. Many of the officials urged the abolishment of the excess profits and inheritance tax as an aid in reducing living costs.

A trend against soldiers' bonus legislation was shown in a statement by Representative Ackerman of New Jersey, Republican, and a speech by Representative Moore of Virginia, Democrat.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.

THE presidential primaries, now virtually ended, have given Gen. Wood the greater number of instructed delegates and Johnson the largest popular vote. Harding is eliminated and the nomination of Johnson is generally regarded improbable. The contest is narrowed down to Wood, Lowden, or a dark horse, with Senator Knox the principal compromise discussed.

ACCORDING to the testimony of Admiral Benson the American navy was not prepared for war in April, 1917, could not have met the German navy and defeated it, the responsibility for its condition being shared by himself and Secretary Daniels, who were led by the presidential election vote of 1916 to believe that the country would not go to war.

IN advocating his peace resolution Senator Knox today vigorously condemned the treaty of Versailles, criticized the Lodge reservations as inadequate, and asserted the time had come to "rescue the people from their present unhappy state," for which he blamed President Wilson.

THE interstate commerce commission was requested today by representatives of grain and live stock interests of the middle west and northwest to invoke the emergency powers given it under the new transportation act to relieve the car shortage.

SECRETARY OF LABOR WILSON decided that membership in the Communist Labor party does not constitute ground for the deportation of alien Reds because the party does not advocate overthrow of government by violence, unlike the Communist party.

"BLUE LAW" MOB CHASES "MOVIE" MAN OFF ISLAND

Crisfield, Md., May 5.—A representative of a motion picture company who went to Tangier Island to get scenes of the island and pictures of the principals in the recent "Sunday enforcement" shooting affair there, was mobbed and driven from the island. The machine and one and a half reels were destroyed.

The residents are resenting the wide publicity given them since Constable Connorton shot Roland Parks for violating the Sunday "blue law" ordinance. They claim reports of the case are greatly exaggerated and say they desire to be left alone.

A resident of the island here today stated that no other newspaper representatives nor others bent on giving publicity to the island would be allowed to go there. The moving picture representative got a boat to put him on the mainland last night.

Troops Guard Minister as Murder Trial Closes

Louisville, Ky., May 5.—[Special.]—Troops were ordered to Brooksville, Ky., to guard the Rev. The Covington company of state troops, which quelled the Lexington riot, will reach Brooksville in the morning.

GERMANY READY TO HAND JAPAN SHANTUNG DATA

[By Special Cable.]

BERLIN, May 5.—According to the German foreign office, the Japanese stir concerning surrender of the so-called original Shantung documents hardly is justified by the facts. The foreign office limited its comment to a formal statement, but from other sources it was learned the documents in question will be delivered as promptly as possible as soon as requested by Japan in conformity with the treaty.

The official statement follows:

"Article 158 of the treaty of Versailles imposes on Germany the duty of handing over to Japan within three months of the coming into force of the treaty of all documents of every kind relating to administration of the territory of Kiau-Chau.

"The German government was naturally bound to carry out that treaty obligation.

"In certain quarters the opinion seems to prevail that the documents are kind of title deeds. Such is not the case. These documents contain a number of treaties and arrangements concluded between Germany and China, knowledge of which doubtless is of importance to Japan as showing the extent of the concessions granted to the German empire. They are, however, not documents without which Japan would be prevented from presenting her claims to China."

It is the opinion here Japan forgot the formality of asking for the documents until its attention was called to the subject by the newspaper with suggestions that possibly Japan's title would be endangered if it did not act within three months. Such a theory is declared untenable here.

G. E. COMPANY NO COLLECTOR FOR UNION—STRIKE

Schenectady, N. Y., May 5.—Eighteen hundred members of a local electrical workers' union employed at the plant of the General Electric company went on strike today. The walkout was caused by the refusal of the company's officials to force four former members of the union at work in the plant to pay back dues to the union.

Leaders of the strikers estimated that the total number of strikers would reach between 3,500, and 4,000 before night.

Lynn Strike Looms.

Lynn, Mass., May 5.—A "wage scale massmeeting" of union employés of the General Electric company's plant here was called today for Sunday. The electrical workers, according to leaders, want a flat wage scale in place of the "timing" system which the company management asserts is a scientific method of determining production costs. It has been in operation for more than a year. More than 12,000 persons are employed at the shops.

"HONEYMOON" IN EAST

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Jacques S. Danielson (Fannie Hurst) are planning to steer their unconventional matrimonial ark for Japan this summer. Both Miss Hurst and her husband explain their proposed trip is not a honeymoon and that the unusual family relations which they have maintained for five years will not be interfered with in any way when they set sail from San Francisco.

The Danielson-Hursts or Hurst-Danielsons will take their vacation after the close of the Democratic national convention, which Miss Hurst is to "cover" in a series of articles. For a time they considered going to Italy, but it was said that a joint vote of the two houses resulted in an overwhelming majority for Japan, as Miss Hurst has never been there.

Mr. Danielson said he and his wife have taken other trips together before their marriage was recently known.

HUNGARY GIVEN 10 DAYS IN WHICH TO SIGN TREATY

PARIS, May 5.—The allied reply to the objections of the Hungarian peace delegation to the terms of the peace treaty handed Hungary's representatives in January was delivered to the secretary of the Hungarian mission at Versailles today. The Hungarians are given ten days in which to accept or reject the treaty.

A covering letter accompanying the reply, given out this evening, begins by saying that the allied and associated powers, while hoping that Hungary will become in the future an element of stability and peace in Europe, cannot forget Hungary's share of responsibility in provoking the world war.

The letter points out that ethnographic conditions in central Europe are such that it would be impossible to make the political frontiers of Hungary coincide with her ethnical limits and that the results of plebiscites in the detached territories could not be far different from the result arrived at by the supreme council after minute study of the peoples and their aspirations.

NORTH SCHLESWIG IS OCCUPIED BY DANISH TROOPS

COPENHAGEN, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—Danish troops today occupied northern Schleswig. Its inhabitants on Feb. 10 last, in a plebiscite, provided for in the peace treaty, voted for a return to Danish nationality. The Germans had been in control since 1866.

Enthusiastic scenes accompanied the arrival of the Danes. A number of aged persons who still remember the war of 1864 were out to cheer the soldiers.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The American navy was not prepared for war with Germany in April, 1917; it could not have met the German navy upon a footing of equality; theoretically it could not have expected to defeat the German fleet; and the responsibility for these conditions is shared by Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Admiral Benson, who were led to believe by the vote in the 1916 presidential election that the country would not go to war.

These are some of the admissions made by Admiral Benson on cross-examination before the senate naval affairs committee.

Not Prepared in 1917.

Here is an extract from Admiral Benson's testimony:

THE CHAIRMAN—Would you say that the navy was in all respects prepared for war in April, 1917?

ADMIRAL BENSON—It was not.

THE CHAIRMAN—Would you say that the statement in the secretary's annual report that the navy was from "stem to stern" ready for war in April, 1917, was jusified?

ADMIRAL BENSON—Not from my point of view, no.

THE CHAIRMAN—Was its personnel adequate?

ADMIRAL BENSON—No.

THE CHAIRMAN—Were all the ships ready?

ADMIRAL BENSON — They were ready as far—no, they were not all ready.

THE CHAIRMAN—Were they fully manned?

ADMIRAL BENSON — They were not fully manned.

THE CHAIRMAN—Was the navy mobilized?

ADMIRAL BENSON—It was not.

Fleet Not Properly Screened.

THE CHAIRMAN—Were there any scouts or screening vessels with the battleship force when it came north?

ADMIRAL BENSON—There were some.

THE CHAIRMAN—Previous to the war?

ADMIRAL BENSON—There were some destroyers. I have forgotten how many. Not very many. I will say that it was not properly screened.

THE CHAIRMAN—And do you consider scouts and screening vessels as of importance?

ADMIRAL BENSON—Yes.

THE CHAIRMAN—Why were not these vessels with the fleet?

ADMIRAL BENSON—Because up to the time that we went into the war, if you remember, it was strongly impressed upon every one to observe a strict attitude of neutrality. We were compelled to guard carefully the principle of neutrality. Our vessels were scattered over the world, and I would say they were fairly well placed for guarding the neutrality that the United States had to observe.

Admiral Benson said that as commander in chief of the fleet he would not have hesitated to meet the German fleet, but that as a matter of theory victory would have been "an impossibility."

The admiral insisted upon taking his share of the responsibility for the navy's condition and declared that Daniels was not entirely to blame.

"He Kept Us Out of War."

Pressed for reasons as to why he did not hurry naval preparation after the lessons of the battle of Jutland, the admiral said:

"I think there was a general feeling at that time, possibly throughout the country, that we would not be drawn into the war. The election took place in the fall of 1916, and the voice of the people seemed to indicate that they did not want war and did not expect it."

Admiral Benson again insisted that it would have been "ill advised" to have sent the battleships as requested in July, 1917, by the British, and recommended by Admiral Sims.

Nations Interlocked Today, Italian Ambassador Says

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—The United States cannot afford to separate its interests from those of Europe, Baron Romano Avezzano, Italian ambassador to this country, told the Chamber of Commerce today.

"Many things have been discovered since the war," he declared. "One of these is the interdependence of nations, something which even your country, with its great wealth and territory, cannot escape."

GERMANY READY TO TRY ACCUSED, ALLIES SILENT

Three Months of Inaction.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.]

BERLIN, May 5.—Three months have passed since the list of "war criminals" was handed to the German government. So far as the nations are concerned which demanded the surrender of the men they accused, it has been three months of complete silence.

Dr. Andreas Blunck, who succeeded Eugene Schiffer as minister of justice, told THE TRIBUNE that during the entire period not one word has come from France, England, Belgium, Poland, or Italy. At the time the entente announced it would permit Germany itself to try the accused members of the army and navy, it stated unqualifiedly it would present the evidence of each crime charged, and the allied press indicated it might send a commission which would watch the proceedings in he Supreme court of Leipsic. But not even a correction of the list, which admittedly contained many errors such as the demand for surrender of dead men, has been received.

Minister Blunck said immediately upon taking office more than a month ago he directed that a report be made of the extradition matter. The reply showed the German court machinery was ready for action, but was held motionless because of lack of material on which to base the prosecution.

317 Prosecutions Begun.

"The attorney general's report," said the minister, "shows 317 prosecutions were instituted."

He said it was necessary to begin action against each individual named, although in many instances not even the addresses were known. Therefore, a general appeal was issued, and a large number of the men on the list answered the appeal.

"But since then things have been forced to a standstill because the accusing nations failed to keep their promise to provide evidence upon which a prosecution could be based. All possible use was taken of the statements of the accused, who without exception denied knowledge of the basis of the charges and in many instances presented evidence of their innocence of the charges."

"Have any actually established innocence?"

"With the material at hand it would be easy to declare many of them innocent, but that was not done until we know whether the accusing nations intend to submit evidence in each instance."

Germany All Ready.

"Will the prosecutions of the Kapp conspirators interfere or delay these?"

"Not in least. We also have a special staff for the Kapp cases."

"It is almost time for the summer court vacations. Will they interfere?"

"No. Vacations affect only civil cases. Three more special assistants recently were assigned to Leipsic for the entente cases, and as soon as material arrives we will send as many more as are necessary."

The minister said the hastily organized semi-official defense body was dissolved because it felt the nation could not both prosecute and defend. Also he said Germany itself now is prosecuting forty-nine cases of offenses against its soldiers and sailors during the war which it originated on its own initiative.

O'MALLEY TAKES SULLIVAN'S SEAT ON DELEGATION

Sweitzer, Harrison, and Dunne Also Picked.

John F. O'Malley will take the place of the late Roger C. Sullivan as a delegate at large from Illinois to the Democratic national convention in San Francisco, Dennis J. Egan, chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic county committee, announced last night. The others slated for delegates at large from Chicago are Robert Sweitzer, Carter H. Harrison, and former Gov. Edward F. Dunne, Mr. Egan said.

Three of the selections for downstate delegates at large have been made, according to Mr. Egan, in Charles Boeschenstein of Edwardsville, Frank J. vuinn of Peoria, and Francis S. Peabody of Wheaton. The fourth downstater has not yet been decided upon, but Mr. Egan said the honor probably would go to some woman from downstate. He would give no intimation as to whom it might be.

There was comment in Democratic circles when it became known certainly that former Senator James Hamilton Lewis was not to have a place among the "big four." A partial explanation lies in the fact that the former senator is to be indorsed as a candidate for vice president by the Illinois delegates, and his presence on the delegation would therefore be somewhat of an embarrassment.

Brady for Senator.

James J. Brady, former state auditor, last night announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator on a "wet" platform. Mr. Brady said his friends had importuned him to make the race, and he had authorized them to make the formal announcement that he was a candidate at the state convention in Springfield next Monday. Mr. Brady said he was prompted to enter the contest by the belief that Senator Hiram Johnson would bolt the Republican ticket, run for president as an independent, and thus assure a sweeping Democratic victory next fall.

Elect State Committees.

Both Democrats and Republicans yesterday held their congressional district conventions, selecting their district members of the state committees. Results in Cook county follow:

Dist.	Republican.	Democrat.
1	Adolph Marks	John J. Coughlin.
2	Edwin S. Davis	James J. Kelly.
3	James Rea	Terrence F. Moran.
4	T. J. Finucane	Michael J. Donkin.
5	Morris Eller	Barth P. Collins.
6	G. B. Arnold	Stephen D. Griffin.
7	John P. Garner	William Kells.
8	Fred E. Erickson	James O'Connor.
9	Eugene Pike	Edmond L. Mulcahy
10	Charles Bostrom	John P. Dougherty

All of the Republicans are Thompson men, all of the Democrats adherents of the Sullivan organization.

Republicans of the Twenty-fifth ward formed a tentative organization yesterday with the object of solidifying the anti-Thompson vote at the coming primaries. John C. Updegrove presided as chairman and State Senator James J. Barbour made the principal address.

PALMER'S CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN HERE TO START OFF BATTLE

C. C. CARLIN.
[Copyright: Harris & Ewing.]

C. C. Carlin, chairman of the national Palmer campaign committee, arrived in Chicago last night from Washington for his first visit to the western headquarters in the Auditorium hotel. Mr. Carlin was associated with both Wilson campaigns and generally was credited with being the man behind Vance McCormick in charge of the organization work. He will remain two weeks, it was said, to get the western offices started off and to attend the banquet to be given Attorney General Palmer by the Iroquois club.

Mrs. Halsey W. Wilson, formerly chief aid to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in the fight for suffrage, will arrive tomorrow to take charge of the women's division of the Palmer campaign. She will have offices in the Fine Arts building. She is coming from Kentucky, where three women have just been elected delegates at large, with one-half vote each, largely through her efforts, it is said.

M. V. L. ASKS WAR CHEST TO KEEP EYE ON COUNCIL

Tells for First Time How League Is Financed.

Preparatory to a new campaign against inefficiency in the city council, the Municipal Voters' league, whose representativ Mayor Thompson has barred from the council floor, has begun a drive for a war chest.

Far from acknowledging that it is "out of business" because the council has decided to organize without the league's assistance, Harold F. White, president; Allen B. Pond, vice president, and Charles Daniel Frey, chairman of th finance committee, are sending out several thousand letters urging prominent citizens to finance it generously.

Contrary to charges that the league has spent large amounts to defeat candidates whom it deemed unfit, the pamphlet urging contributions sets the league's annual budget at "from $8,000 to $10,000 a year." For the first time in the league's twenty-five years of existence, the public is told of the method of finacing the league.

330 Contributed Last Year.

"In the last fiscal year 330 contributors gave money to support the league," the pamphlet says. "Contributions aggregate from $8,000 to $10,000 a year. No public utility company, directly or indirectly, contributes to the support of the league. The average yearly subscription is $25 to $30. The largest single contribution is $500. Every dollar is put to its most effective use by the league."

The pamphlet recalls that the league was formed in 1896, when the aldermen were described as "fifty-eight skates, three dubious, and seven o. k.," in an attempt to rid the council of graft and "gray wolf" aldermen.

"City's Interests Threatened."

After describing the improvement in the council since that time the pamphlet continues:

"But aldermen are still to be found who allow corrupt considerations to govern their votes and too many aldermen permit political and factional consideration to control them. This tendency has increased alarmingly in the last five years and the interests of the city today are gravely threatened."

ILLINOIS BOOM FOR LOWDEN LIKE BARRAGE

G. O. P. in 15 Districts Strong for Him.

Presidential, senatorial and gubernatorial booms resounded through the downstate districts at the Republican congressional district conventions that were held yesterday under the provisions of the primary law. Republican and Democratic conventions were called in each of the fifteen downstate districts.

Gov. Lowden, as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, was indorsed in each one of the fifteen Republican gatherings. For the United States senatorship, Edward D. Shurtleff was indorsed by the Eleventh district; B. M. Chiperfield was indorsed by the Fifteenth district, and Congressman William B. McKinley was indorsed by the Nineteenth district.

"Sterling for Governor."

The Twelfth district formally presented the name of State Treasurer Fred E. Sterling for the Republican nomination for governor. The convention at Jacksonville indorsed Andrew Russel for governor.

The contests for Republican state committemen were close in some of the districts. Arthur M. Smith of Jo Daviess county defeated W. B. McHenry of Ogle in the Thirteenth district. Charles H. Miller of Franklin was elected in the Twenty-fifth district over Henry H. Kohn of Union, Dr. E. J. Burch of Perry, and W. O. Potter of Williamson. Justus A. Johnson of Kane was reelected in the Eleventh and Adam C. Cliffe of De Kalb was reelected in the Twelfth. Walter A. Rosenfield of Rock Island was reelected in the Fourteenth. Jerome A. Christy of Adams succeeds George H. Wilson. Garrett Kinney comes back in the Peoria district.

"Uncle Joe's" 26th O. K. By Party.

Len Small is succeeded in the Eighteenth by Ernest X. Le Seure of Danville, son-in-law of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who, by the way, was indorsed for reelection to congress for a twenty-sixth term. James S. Baldwin of Macon becomes the new committeeman in the McKinley district, succeeding H. P. Harris. Richard M. Sullivan of Sangamon succeeds Lewis H. Miner. George A. Brown of Fayette was reelected in the Twenty-third district. In the Twenty-fifth C. H. Miller of Franklin county was chosen.

Democratic state committeemen elected include Douglas Pattison of Stephenson, Thirteenth district; Jackson R. Pearce of Adams, Fifteenth district; Thomas O'Connor of Peoria, Sixteenth district.

FIGURES PROVE CRIME DECREASE, GEMMILL REPLY

Accepts the Challenge of Edwin S. Sims.

Judge William N. Gemmill yesterday accepted the challenge of Edwin W. Sims, president of the Chicago crime commission, to produce data showing that crime is on the decrease in Chicago. In a letter on Tuesday Mr. Sims charged Judge Gemmill was not helping the crime commission by declaring Chicago has the lowest crime record of "all the large cities of the United States except two."

Judge Gemmill presented figures showing there are more homicides per capita in St. Louis, Baltimore, Boston, Washington, San Francisco, and Cleveland than in Chicago.

"I have never criticized the crime commission," Judge Gemmill said. "but, on the contrary, have always felt it was a valuable agency for the suppression of crime. If, however, to tell the truth about Chicago is to slander the crime commission, then your commission will have to be slandered.

Worse 30 Years Ago.

"The two things that I said were: First, crime is everywhere on the decrease; second, Chicago is not the worst crime center in America. Both these propositions are easily demonstrable.

"More crimes were committed and more people were arrested for crimes in Chicago thirty years ago, when Chicago's population was less than half of what it is now, than will be the total arrests in Chicago for this year. In 1889-'90 from 89,000 to 90,000 people were arrested in Chicago. The total arrests for the year 1920, based upon figures for the last six months, will not exceed 35,000 persons. There has been a reduction in the total reported crimes and arrests during the last six months of over 18 per cent.

Fewer Murders in 1920.

"The total number of arrests in Chicago for the year 1919 was 114,470. Compared with twenty-eight or thirty years ago, this is a reduction per capita of over 50 per cent. But it is said this reduction does not apply to the more serious crimes of murder, burglary, and robbery. To this I have always agreed. There was a 25 per cent increase in all of these offenses during the year 1919. But for the first four months of the year 1920 there has been a reduction in the number of cases of murder, manslaughter, robbery, and burglary of over 25 per cent."

CAREFUL judges find that the new Oakland Sensible Six Sedan appeals quite as much to their business instinct as to their taste and pride.

For in every detail of design and construction it combines the essentials of reliability and good performance.

Good performance, from the Oakland standpoint, is simply utmost convenience and comfort in motor transportation supplied at low cost.

Oakland's efficient, economical service is simply the product of high power, light weight, balance, sturdiness and roominess rightly combined.

All the justly popular qualities of Oakland cars today are given even greater effectiveness by a stronger chassis of longer wheelbase.

Visit our salesroom and see the Oakland, examine its construction and refinements; and consider the big return it offers on a moderate investment.

KEEPING PACE WITH THE TIMES

Present conditions prevent the adherence to former institutional policies. In previous years O-G sales and selling events occurred at regular intervals—as a result of a steady market and normal conditions. Today, however, it becomes necessary to swerve from formerly rigid principles—to govern this business from the public's viewpoint, rather than from the dictates of the business itself. These are times when good will means more than profit. Accordingly, it is necessary to keep faith with the public—to reduce prices when reduced prices are wanted.

WOOD DEMANDS FRUIT OF INDIANA WIN; RIVALS BALK

10,000 Plurality Forecast in Count of Ballots.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—[Special.] Gen. Leonard Wood, having won a plurality of approximately 9,000 in the Indiana primaries, claims the support of the entire state delegation to Chicago and will insist upon instructions to that effect at the state convention next week.

This policy is strongly resented by the other presidential camps and by Indiana Republican leaders generally, and one of the hottest fights ever staged at a state convention is in prospect.

Harry G. Hogan, Indiana manager for Wood, is insistent that the plurality should govern the delegates' conduct, and that the plurality in each district should guide the two delegates from that district.

Claims 24 Delegates.

On the face of tonight's figures, Mr. Hogan says his principal has carried ten of the thirteen districts, and is entitled to twenty district delegates, at least, and the four at large.

In 3,111 precincts out of 3,387 in the state, Wood's plurality is about 9,000. The vote was: Wood, 80,478; Johnson, 72,062; Lowden, 36,341; Harding, 18,777.

The state law requires that a candidate to get the delegation as a whole must obtain a majority of all votes cast; otherwise it is up to the district and state conventions.

Johnson Strong in Cities.

Johnson carried the Calumet region by staggering majorities. The steel mills country cast more votes than did Indianapolis. Johnson carried Evansville and he went big in Terre Haute.

Wood won Indianapolis by a comfortable margin and carried Fort Wayne and the Twelfth district by big margins.

Lowden got a dozen of the ninety-two counties and ran second wherever he wasn't first in the purely agricultural sections. He carried all of the counties in the coal mining belt.

Johnson Wins California by 211,899.

San Francisco, Cal., May 5.—With 5,033 precincts reporting and only Mono county, a sparsely settled mountain community, unheard from, returns from yesterday's presidential preference primary continued to add to the majority of the delegation that will support Senator Hiram W. Johnson at the Republican national convention.

The Johnson ticket led the Herbert C. Hoover ticket on tabulations compiled from 5,033 complete precincts of a total of 5,724 in the state, by 211,899 votes. The vote stood: Johnson group, 495,525; Hoover group, 193,626.

The Republican contest apparently settled, interest has turned to the strength of the Democratic and Prohibition votes in primary. The fate of the Independent candidacy of Henry H. Childers of Los Angeles, on the Democratic ballot still was in doubt and it probably will require an official canvas before the result is definitely known. Childers announced himself as being opposed to a drastic enforcement of the national prohibition laws.

Incomplete returns showed that Gavin McNab of San Francisco was rolling the heaviest vote of the Democratic group.

From scattered returns it was apparent that the Prohibition group, pledged to the candidacy of Henry Clay Needham of Los Angeles received a light vote.

Johnson Gets Michigan 30 with Strings.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 5.—Michigan's thirty delegates to the Republican national convention were pledged by the state convention today to use every effort at their command to obtain the nomination of Senator Hiram W. Johnson for president and to stand by him as long as he has a chance for the nomination.

Johnson's supporters sought to obtain a stronger indorsement of their candidate with an iron clad pledge, but a compromise finally was reached which left the delegates free to decide for themselves when their support might be thrown to another candidate.

The four delegates-at-large chosen are Charles W. Burton, Detroit; Claud H. Hamilton, Grand Rapids; Robert K. Shield, Houghton, and Mrs. Grace G. Brown, Ann Arbor. Burton and Mrs. Brown are Johnson supporters. Shields and Hamilton are said to favor Wood.

Resolutions adopted indorsed a national budget system, a deep waterway from the great lakes to the Atlantic, and establishment of a federal commission to arbitrate labor difficulties.

Missouri G. O. P. Can't Settle Its Contests.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—The Republican state convention in session here adjourned tonight until tomorrow morning after it had waited more than eight hours for its committee on credentials to settle contests between dual delegations from Jackson and Buchanan counties.

No business may be transacted by the convention until the question of which of the rival delegations is to be seated in the permanent reorganization has been determined.

The women representatives to the convention decided at their caucus that they are going to have two delegates on the "big eight," and two alternates, or else—

Just what will happen should the convention refuse to allow two places to them is not known. Some of the women demanded as many as half the delegates, while others were content with one. Finally a compromise was reached on two. The men already had announced who the eight delegates would be and there were no women upon it. The women all were named as alternates.

"If they think all we can do at this dance is to play second fiddle they are wrong," one woman declared.

TAKE UP CAR LINES' OUSTER.

Ouster proceedings against the Chicago Surface Lines for failure to live up to the provisions of the 1907 contract ordinances will be the first question considered by the new city council local transportation committee, of which Ald. U. S. Schwartz is chanrman.

Legion Chaplain Meets Indian Princess

Father Kelley, on Visit to Army Hospital, Finds Princess Watahwasco Entertaining Wounded Fighters.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Talks of Legion

Father Francis A. Kelley of New York, national chaplain of the American Legion, decorated with the D. S. C. by the government and the M. C. by the British for bravery under fire with the 27th division, arrived in Chicago yesterday to aid in the statewide membership drive of the legion. He accompanied Franklin D'Olier, national commander, and Col. Milton J. Foreman, state commander, on a tour of inspection of the United States Public Health Service hospital at Forty-seventh street and Drexel boulevard, where 600 wounded ex-service men are confined.

When the party arrived there they found Princess Watahwasco, Indian mezzo-soprano, singing to the boys.

"I have heard it said," Father Kelley told the patients, "that the aim of the American Legion is to impose upon the United States a government of the soldiers, by the soldiers, and for the soldiers. The American Legion is a million miles away from any such idea as that. We crossed the sea to put an end to such forms of government, and certainly we do not intend or strive to set up at home what we went to war to destroy abroad."

While returning from the hospital in Princess Watahwasco's car Commander D'Olier and Father Kelley picked up Miss Sylvia Wasson of 4347 Greenwood avenue, who had been injured in an automobile accident, and carried her to a nearby hospital.

Col. Foreman addressed meetings last night in Knights of Columbus hall, Sixty-second street and Stony Island avenue, and Chicago Normal college, Stewart avenue and Sixty-eighth street.

PLAN AN ATTACK ON VOLSTEAD ACT IN HOUSE TODAY

Wets Will Attempt to Stop Funds.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Another effort probably will be made in the house tomorrow to repeal the Volstead prohibition law.

Anticipating this move the house rules committee today agreed upon a change in the rules which would prevent such attempts through amendments to appropriation bills. There was some doubt as to whether the house would agree to the change before the repeal proposition was presented, but, in any event, prohibition leaders said the effort would fail, just as it did on two occasions recently. The wets claim an increase in strength to 105 members, but this is short of the number needed.

Woman Warns of Wets.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 5.—Threatening the Democratic party for the loss of the women's vote in Wisconsin if the men of the party dared to temporize in any degree with the "wets," Mrs. Clinton M. Barr, state vice chairman of the Wisconsin Women Democrats, created a sensation at the meeting of Wisconsin Democratic national convention delegates and women this afternoon.

Her speech was frequently interrupted with applause by the women. Politicians on the men's side had carefully avoided mentioning anything of the dry and wet question.

Chance to Obtain Vote.

"The Democratic party now has the opportunity to gather to it almost the solid women's vote," Mrs. Barr said. "Even Republican women are disgusted at the antics of the Republican senate.

"But there are things in the Democratic party which the women of Wisconsin will not stand for. If you put a plank in the platform at San Francisco which gives light beer and wine or makes other concessions to the wets, the women will not vote for the Democratic party."

BUILDING TIEUP LOOMS AGAIN AS STRIKE RESULT

Lumbermen Refuse Carpenters' Demands.

Likelihood of a tieup of building operations became apparent yesterday when the Chicago Lumbermen's association withdrew its offer to the Mill Carpenters' union of $1.10 per hour, beginning June 1, contingent upon the carpenters' return to work yesterday.

William Brims, president of the Carpenters' District council, contended the men have an option to reopen their contract at any time. The employers contend the contract does not expire until June 1, and that the present refusal to work constitutes a breach of contract.

Leaders Criticize Strike.

Other labor leaders admitted that a strike of mill workers must inevitably cause a tieup of all building, affecting many construction enterprises and thousands of workers. These leaders commented bitterly upon a strike called at a time when a month's delay might have brought complete victory.

Hotel Gets Injunction.

An injunction forbidding the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers and the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers to call out the engineers and firemen at the Edgewater Beach hotel in sympathy with the striking cooks and waiters was issued yesterday by Judge Denis E. Sullivan. According to the bill filed by the hotel company, the engineers and firemen have no grievances and have no desire to quit their employment.

Temple Robertson, Luther David, Jacob David, Tony Shell, and Paul Burdeck, all members of the cooks and waiters' union, were arrested yesterday for distributing handbills in front of the Stevens restaurant.

The executive board meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor held yesterday to act on charges filed against John Kikulski, president of the Stockyards Labor council, anw J. W. Johnstone, financial secretary, was adjourned until May 13 to allow time for both men to produce more evidence.

TURK LEADERS VOW WAR FOR RELIGIOUS NATIONAL LIBERTY

ANGORA, Anatolia, via Paris, May 4.—Mustapha Kemal Pasha today was elected president of the provisional nationalist government, receiving the votes of 110 of the 124 members of the assembly. Jala Lud Dnarif Bey, who was speaker of the parliament in Constantinople, is the new vice president, and Chaliabi Ubdul Halim Effendi, leader of the Molai order, second vice president.

A statement issued addressed to the people said:

"We, your representatives, swear in the name of God and the prophet we are not in rebellion against the sultan caliph and assert we are termed rebels for the sole purpose of clouding public opinion. If you want to save your country from the fates of India and Egypt, do not believe the falsehoods manufactured by the British agents. Do not listen to the advice of those mean persons who are trying to strike against the defenders of Smyrna, Adana, Marash, and Ourfa, who are shedding their blood to maintain the honor of the nation and of the creed.

"The enemy officially announced he dare not tread on us if we are united. God's malediction and curse be on those who help the enemy; blessings on those struggling to have the sultan caliph and nation free."

I. AND R. BUCK IS PASSED DIRECT TO THE CON CON

Short Ballot Move Made by Committee.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—The committee on the initiative and referendum tonight recommended to the constitutional convention by a vote of 8 to 7 the Merriam plan of indirect I. and R. for legislation.

By a vote of 9 to 6 the committee killed the plan to amend or change the constitution by the I. and R. route. This eliminates the so-called gateway amendment.

The committee action on the legislative I. and R. does not indicate favorable action by the convention. Delegate Carlstrom made it plain that he voted for the I. and R. in order that the question might be considered by the convention. He avoided a pledge of support on the floor. Delegate Jack made a like speech.

Put Up to Convention.

The committee recommendation was not a vote in favor of the I. and R., by rather a vote that the convention should assume the responsibility of disposing of the subject.

The eight votes for the committee report on the I. and R. are Carlstrom, Frele, Corcoran, Kunde, Jack, Latchford, Potts, and Wolff. Those opposed were Dove, Dupuy, Goodyear, Kerrick, McGuire, Mills, and Taff.

On the gateway amendment Carlstrom and Jack voted with the seven.

Move for Short Ballot.

The executive department committee recommended that a separate proposal be submitted to the voters making appointive the offices of secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general, and superintendent of public instruction instead of elective as at the present. This is the first step toward getting a short ballot.

If the voters approve of this plan the committee will incorporate it in the constitution. It was by this same process that minority representation was adopted in 1870.

If the appointive system is sanctioned, only the governor, lieutenant governor and auditor of public accounts will be elected.

The convention refused to make constitutional provision for "the care and education of dependent, defective, delinquent and other children requiring special consideration." The legislature has that power now.

The convention also declined to give constitutional recognition to the University of Illinois. That failed because the section provided that the trustees shall always be elective. Only five states have elected trustees of their universities.

When the day closed the delegates were debating on the section relating to state aid to sectarian institutions.

MINISTER'S SON, 13, CERTAIN HE IS BAD, ASKS PUNISHMENT

FRANK LENCIANI.

Frank Lenciani, 13 years old, 1506 Erie street, walked up to Sergt. Daniel Murphy in West Chicago avenue station.

"Sergeant," he said, "I'm going to the bad. I want you to send me to the parental school. I want to save myself from the penitentiary later on by being punished now."

"My father is the Rev. August Lenciani, and he has a church at Erie and Noble streets. He tries to save other boys like me, and he has been a good father, but I can't control myself. I've been away from home now for three days and nights. I've been shooting craps and running with a gang of bad boys. I want to be punished now before I end up like these boys."

He showed a clipping from a Sunday paper telling of two young men who were to pay the death penalty for murder.

But the police led him home and advised him to heed his father's advice and he'd keep out of trouble.

RAIL STRIKERS SEEK FARM JOBS TO BEAT H. C. L.

Can Save Part of Pay in Country.

The high cost of city living and the lure of a home in the country with two acres of garden plot, chickens running around the yard, cows in the pasture, and a side of beef for the hired man, is slowly drawing city dwellers back to the farm.

Six married men with families signed up yesterday with farmers through the efforts of the Illinois Agricultural association at 130 North Wells street. Fifteen single men left yesterday to take jobs on farms.

single men are applying, but few have had experience. Fifteen left yesterday to take jobs on farms.

Many striking switchmen asked to be placed on farms as hired help. A large proportion of these came here from the farms. The office of the association remained open until 10 o'clock, so that men who were held by their work during the day would have an opportunity of getting in touch with farmers needing help. This program will continue the rest of this week.

Men are leaving city jobs that pay anywhere from $100 to $250 a month to take jobs as hired men paying the top price of $90 a month.

"The average married man who comes to us asking for a position as hired man works in a downtown office or shop, and lives as far from the loop as possible," E. L. Bill of the agricultural association said. "His wage is $160 a month. Here is how he [illegible] it:

Disinfection Makes Epidemics Impossible

Epidemics of contagious disease would be unknown if disinfection and sanitation were practiced universally and regularly.

Disinfection and disease germs never go hand in hand. One works for good, the other for evil. Never can both be present at the same time.

Do your part to prevent epidemics by practicing and urging intelligent and sure disinfection.

Lysol Disinfectant

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Kills germ life at the instant of application.

Order Lysol Disinfectant sprinkled throughout your establishment, wherever germs might lurk or be created.

Take a bottle home. Have a solution sprinkled in sinks, drains, toilets, garbage cans, dark corners. Then forget about the menace of the disease germ.

A 50c bottle makes five gallons of powerful disinfectant; a 25c bottle makes two gallons.

Remember, there is but one genuine Lysol Disinfectant—made, bottled, signed, and sealed by Lehn & Fink, Inc.

Lysol Toilet Soap 25c a Cake

Contains the necessary proportion of the antiseptic ingredients of Lysol Disinfectant to protect the skin from germ infection. It is refreshingly soothing and healing and helpful for improving the skin. Ask your dealer. If he hasn't it, ask him to order it for you.

Lysol Shaving Cream in Tubes

Contains the necessary proportion of the antiseptic ingredients of Lysol Disinfectant to kill germs on razor and shaving-brush (where germs abound) and to guard the tiny cuts from infection and give you an antiseptic shave. If your dealer hasn't it, ask him to order a supply for you.

CIRCUS FOLK'S JOBS IN PERIL, FAT MEN THINK

Women Also Able to Qualify as Acrobats.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Can they touch the ground without bending their knees?

"Can a cat drink milk?" answers J. Morrissey, eight pounds lighter than he was ten days ago and 2½ inches less around the waist.

"Don't make us laugh," chorus the three kewpies," Nye, Simon, and Evans. "We can balance a broom on the left big toe standing on our right ears. Ask us something hard, why don't you?"

"Ask the ladies if they can touch the ground without bending the knees," suggested one gentleman whose name I won't disclose for fear his popularity might be jeopardized by a slighting query anent the ladies.

Women Also on Job.

The ladies of Dr. John Dill Robertson's class were asked and were equally scornful of the query. One of them admitted she could do a handspring with as great ease as she can shake the hand of a benefactor, which remark may have a little subtlety buried somewhere in it.

But the fact remains that the reducers of both the Robertson class and my own are working to get out from under just as many pounds as they can in as little time as they can. One woman who applied to Dr. Robertson's class too late to be admitted asked him if she skipped rope 200 times a day and did the bending 150 times would she be able to reducee. And the doctor discreetly and professionally advised her that would not be enough. She'd have to do some dieting, too.

Dieting Is Essential.

Not by exercise alone is the good work being done. That's why the diets are prescribed, and those who follow them most closely are going to be the best losers.

"I guess our waist lines wouldn't be getting so sylphlike," say Frank Mann, D. R. Carpenter, and Ralph Ward, "if we didn't go without the butter and cream and sugar, and the other things that crave our company.

"I guess they wouldn't, either. Their combined waist reductions are a fraction less than twenty inches.

"Who's going to buy us new clothes?" inquires Dr. Ben Reitman.

Maybe we'll be able to get up a benefit performance for the devastated waist lines. A worthy cause, you'll admit.

Meantime, don't forget to get out your old walking boots and shine 'em up for the walk next Sunday a. m. We're going to have more fun than last Sunday—and that's considerable promise.

Judge Scanlan Refuses to Delay Brislane Trial

Judge Scanlan illustrated the new no-delay policy of the Criminal courts yesterday when he refused to allow the case of Edward Brislane and Robert Carter, charged with the murder of William Mills, to be continued into the misty future. Attorney Frank McDonnell, who asked a change of venue a few days ago from Chief Justice Crowe, wished to withdraw from the case because he said his client had not lived up to an agreement. Judge Scanlan refused to permit this. The case will be called this morning.

Bridge Men Under Charges Not Permitted to Resign

SOUTHERN ROADS MAKE LESS THAN 1% ON OUTLAY

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—With a property investment of $2,284,000,000 and revenues of $577,000,000, the net annual income basis of the railroads in the south has been reduced to $16,269,000, or less than 1 per cent on the investment, according to a statement filed today with the interstate commerce commission on behalf of the southern carriers by C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central railroad.

Declaring that "a grave emergency exists" and that the credit of the carriers should be firmly established so that they may perform their public service, Mr. Markham presented to the commission an estimate of needed additional annual revenues of $120,770,000, to place these roads on the 6 per cent income basis provided in the transportation act.

This is equal to 20.7 per cent on the total revenues, or 30.9 per cent if applied only to the freight traffic. The southern roads propose that all the needed new revenue be obtained on freight, leaving passenger rates undisturbed.

Oconto, Wis., May 5.—Edward Hazen, 40, was killed and five other men seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding struck a telegraph pole and upset. There were nine passengers in the car.

GRAIN AND STOCK RAISERS PLEAD FOR MORE CARS

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The interstate commerce commission today was requested by representatives of grain and live stock interests of the middle west and the northwest to invoke the emergency powers given it under the new transportation act to relieve the stringent car shortage which is preventing the movement of grain and live stock.

Millions of bushels of last year's crop of wheat, and millions of dollars' worth of cattle and hogs, the commission was informed, cannot be moved to market because of the lack of cars.

Edward D. McDougal of the Chicago Board of Trade asked that the commission, besides ordering cars to relieve the situation in the west, use its influence to have the revolving fund of $300,000,000 appropriated by the transportation act doubled so that the carriers would have sufficient funds to buy additional equipment. He said the $300,000,000 would not buy one-fourth of the cars needed.

THE NAVAL INQUIRY.

A part of the controversy developed before the senate committee on naval affairs is the usual debate between line and staff. This arises after every war and exists in peace or war in every naval and military establishment.

It is natural that the line should be critical and the staff sensitive, but it would be a loss to the service if their differences should not be thrashed out. There would be less progress in naval or military science if they were not, and, furthermore, it has to be done in great degree in public. If it were not, the staff would have its way, and real progress comes largely through the testing of plans, systems, and theories by the line—by actual practice.

In our own naval inquiry, the staff, with honorable exceptions, seems to be disposed to accuse the line critics of attacking the navy, and some of the commanding admirals fall into this foolish attitude. The fact clearly is that the navy's achievement was all the more creditable because it was handicapped so seriously by a civilian chief without knowledge or military aptitude. When Capt. Pratt says "Admiral Sims strained a point to make a case against the navy" we think he misses his target, but what is really important in the whole controversy he corroborates, namely, that the navy was not properly prepared. Various admirals have told us that plans were ready. That is not the point. The point is, were the plans, which they tell us were ready, promptly carried out? We think no one claims that.

They were not carried out, as the inquiry repeatedly discloses, because Secretary Daniels was so elusive, preoccupied, and incapable of grasping executive naval problems that month after month was lost. Capt. Laning gives a striking and fully documented picture of this, and what says Capt. Pratt, who was assistant chief of operations? That there was lack of material preparation, of adequate supplies and repair bases of sufficient personnel, and of training facilities, and of modern methods of organization and administration.

What more need be said? War does not wait upon explanations. A navy or army is ready to fight or it is not ready to fight, and to fight is its sole test and justification. Among the shortcomings admitted by Capt. Pratt some are to be ascribed to the professional naval organization, but no navy can be ready if it is under the control for years of a civilian who has no more conception of questions of naval efficiency than Daniels, who is a sentimentalist politician, whose whole bias is against the drastic requirements of an effective fighting machine, who constitutionally or through bias of sentiment could not realize the urgent need of decision on the most practical questions.

The naval inquiry is certain to bring about some improvements in method and organization. Unhappily there is no way of preventing the appointment of incompetent civilian secretaries of the navy. Only public opinion or the conscience of an occasional president can save the navy from that, and as for public opinion it will continue to be indifferent to national defense until we are soundly beaten by an efficient enemy. There are such.

IN THE COURSE OF THE CAMPAIGN.

At the beginning of the campaign there was much pooh-poohing of Leonard Wood's candidacy. It was said that so far as organization politics was concerned he was not in the running, and that so far as the voters were concerned a soldier would never, never be thought of.

Since these confident assertions were put forth the Wood candidacy has been put to a test in several states, and wherever a real contest was made by his supporters he has shown marked strength, while he has won the preference primaries in four important states, Indiana, Maryland, New Jersey, and South Dakota. Also he ran second to Lowden in Illinois, to Harding in Ohio, and to Johnson in Michigan.

Mr. Wood's strength has been thus demonstrated in widely separated sections of the country and from the tests made it appears the prejudice against a soldier, if it exists in some quarters, is more than offset by respect for patriotic service and forceful character.

In California the expected happened. The loss of the state, or even a close contest, would have been fatal to Senator Johnson's candidacy. With his sweeping indorsement and the strength he has shown in Michigan, Indiana, and elsewhere he must be counted an important factor in the convention.

No candidate is coming to Chicago with the nomination in his pocket. The choice will be made by a process of political trading and tactics. Fortunately all the leading candidates are presidential timber and worthy of the nation's confidence.

THE COST OF CRIME.

A recent statement by Judge W. N. Gemmill that "Chicago has the lowest crime record of all the large cities of the United States except two" has inspired an illuminating reply from Edwin W. Sims, president of the Chicago crime commission. Mr. Sims sees little comfort in Judge Gemmill's statement to the families and relatives of 330 persons murdered in Chicago in 1919 or to 2,916 victims of robberies, 6,103 victims of burglaries, and 4,447 victims of automobile thefts.

Mr. Sims points out also that if Chicago's record of crimes is so comparatively low it would be well to convince insurance companies of that fact. That they are unconvinced is evidenced by a burglary and robbery insurance rate of $19.80 per thousand in New York, St. Louis, and Cleveland and a rate of $11 in Boston, whereas Chicago's rate is $27.50 per thousand.

Laying aside for the moment the moral and sentimental aspects of the crime problem, these figures bring up the matter of dollars and cents. Chicago's reputation for crime, based upon irrefutable statistics, is costing business men and householders vast sums annually. It is sound economy to reduce this expense by reducing crime. The Chicago crime commission, organized by the Association of Commerce, is devoted to this work. It is not a reform organization. It is an organization of business men applying business methods to combat organized crime. It collects and tabulates information on crime and the methods by which crime flourishes and criminals escape. It aims to see that all branches of government charged with the suppression of crime function properly. It has accomplished much and will accomplish more.

Incidentally, its work of combating crime and its attendant waste and providing for the greater safety of the city requires funds. These funds are provided by its members and others who appreciate the value of its work, both in cash and protection. Those who wish to be of practical assistance in reduction of crime in Chicago cannot do better than to help provide the sinews of war for the commission.

THE ROCKFORD HORROR.

In May, 1918, a ghastly crime was committed by Negro soldiers at Camp Grant against a white woman.

A military court was held at once and thirteen men of about twenty taken were convicted. Eight were given the death penalty, five life terms.

The judgment of the court went up in due course for review. A new trial was directed on the theory, we understand, that the first trial, having taken place promptly, was affected by excitement and prejudice.

Meanwhile witnesses were scattered. Some of them went overseas. Finally the second trial was held. Doubtless in this trial there was less excitement. Eight of the men were convicted of the principal offense, three of them to be hanged, five to serve for life. Others were convicted of assaulting a corporal.

The second judgment was then taken under advisement. On March 11, 1920, two months short of two years after the crime, the president commuted the sentence of hanging pronounced against three of the culprits to life imprisonment.

This result transpires from general court martial order No. 77, in which the specification of the offense for which the men were condemned to be hanged is not set forth except by number from the articles of war and by asterisks, while two pages are given to the specifications dealing with the assault and conspiracy to assault the corporal. No one would know from this document, except by reference to the articles of war and to the record, what the three men sentenced to death were guilty of or what the commutation meant.

There were at least thirteen or fourteen men involved directly or indirectly in this outrage. They were given a prompt trial by a court of high personal character. Eight were adjudged worthy of the extreme penalty. But now, after nearly two years of delay, many escape this penalty and have been commuted to life imprisonment.

Whether a pardon or further commutation is in prospect we cannot know. We do know that in a trial for one of the most bestial and ghastly of crimes there have been such repeated delay, evasion, and defeat of justice as call for thorough exposure and public rebuke.

What the motives back of this shameful affair were we do not know. Whether they were perverted humanitarianism or politics or both in unsavory mixture we do not know. We do know that men proved guilty of an offense of the lowest brutishness have escaped the punishment which the honor of womanhood and the safety of society demand they expiate on the gallows.

What adds to the sinister character of the whole affair is the secrecy with which its discreditable progress has been surrounded. We think the case especially merits the investigation of American women.

ARE MEN PEOPLE?

Laying aside for the moment the discussion of women's sense of humor, precipitated by some professorial remarks under the caption, "Are Women People?" we are brought to ponder the question, "Are men people?"

The query is suggested by the comments of several notable Chicago women, and some men, upon the subject of the five years of "trial marriage" so happily revealed by Fannie Hurst, the writer. Asked for her views on Miss Hurst's successful experiment with an unhampered marital state in which husband and wife maintained separate establishments, and thereby kept themselves upon the best of terms, Mrs. J. Ogden Armour said: "I believe that every one should do as they think best. Miss Hurst has picked out her scheme of life, and it is really no one's affair."

Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss remarked: "Miss Hurst surely knows her own business, and if she is satisfied I cannot see how any one else should criticize."

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen said: "I understand that this marriage is entirely successful. If such is the case, or, in any event, it is no concern of the public."

Mrs. Raymond Robins declared that such a scheme would not interest the masses of the people, but she made no protest against it.

So much for the women's attitude. Let us consider the men's. Judge Landis asserted his opinion would not be allowed in the mails. It seems safe to assume that the opinion is adverse. Judge John P. McGoorty said: "I consider such a plan a dangerous proposition, viewed from any angle."

Putting one group of opinions against the other, we are brought painfully to the conclusion that the women show more kindliness to personal liberty than do the men. The case does not cover all phases of human activity by any means, but it may be a straw which shows the way the wind blows.

In these days of growing restrictions on personal liberty we hope that the women quoted are representative of their sex. To be with or without a sense of humor is as nothing compared to being with or without liberty. We shrink from the conclusion that the male of the species is deadlier than the female, but we allow ourselves to wonder.

CHICAGO VOTING QUALIFICATIONS.

The statement by one of the constitutional convention delegates, Dr. Whitman, former superintendent of the Elgin state hospital, that insane patients in the county institutions at Chicago are allowed to go home to vote, might possibly account for some of the strange results in a Chicago election.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

CONCERNING Fanny Hurst's matrimonial arrangements, Mrs. Countiss says that if the marriage is successful, "or in any event," it is no concern of the public. Yes and no. But it is certainly of no interest to the public if it is successful. The public is interested only in discord.

INDIRECTLY, however, the public is interested. The happy couple referred to occupy two establishments, a selfish arrangement considering the shortage of houses and apartments. And needlessly expensive. Obviously, "seven breakfasts a week opposite one another might prove irksome." But this fastidieux arrangement might be avoided by a large floral centerpiece, or, better, by taking in two morning newspapers.

Sir: After reading several of your scathing diatribes against the use of the word Olympiad for Olympic games, instead of confining it to designate the period between those contests, I should like to ask how you and some of your classic contributors read the subjoined passages which are quoted from standard translations by English scholars:

Herodotus: "And afterwards in the next Olympiad, being victorious with the same mares, Cimon permitted Pisistratus to be proclaimed victor."

Xenophon: "The next year, being the 93d Olympiad, at which the two horse chariot of Evagoras the Elean gained the prize, this being a new addition to the games, and in the foot race Eubotas the Cyrenean, etc."

Thucydides: "It was the Olympiad at which Dorieus the Rhodian gained his second victory."

PEP FROM PEPINSKY IS PEP INDEED.

The University Symphony orchestra gave the second program in its series of popular concerts under the baton of Abe Pepinsky. Mr. Pepinsky has just the right sort of enthusiasm and magnetism to keep his forces together and make them overcome the manifold obstacles.

A CARPING correspondent asks why cartoonists, column conductors, and so forth, drop into golf when they can't think of anything else to draw or write about. We can reply only for this department. We touch the subject of golf infrequently, and then chiefly for the benefit of readers in remote corners of the land, who write to us to ask about such elementary things as the difference between square and open stance. These novices are almost sure to get off on the wrong foot if they read almost any of the books about golf. Herr Einstein's explanation of his theory is translucent compared with the average golf writer's exposition of his stroke.

THE results are sometimes deplorable. There is Ed Freschl, who wrote the other day that golf does not reduce his circumference. Very likely not—with his swing. He probably entertains that curious notion of the "follow-through" which the writers emphasize—the notion of "letting the arms go forward freely," as if that would get you anything. Ed will never take up any belt-holes by extending his arms in prayer.

FORMS OF THEFT ARE MANY.

YOU think you would not steal. Maybe you wouldn't, but have you ever been hungry and broke and had food within reach and safe to take? If you were so placed, did your principles withstand the strain? Such was the dilemma of Dr. Therne, a character created by Rider Haggard.

Dr. Therne's father died as a result of smallpox. The disease had crippled his family in still other ways. Naturally under these circumstances Dr. Therne was vaccinated early in life. Traveling to Mexico City, he was brought face to face with a fearful epidemic of the disease. For many reasons the disease had become a phobia with him.

Having settled down in England, he underwent a series of professional ups and downs. There were periods of considerable success which served to sharpen his appetite for position, power, and acclaim.

After one such period he was practically ruined by a suit for damages, which he won but which reduced him to penury and caused his patients to desert him. His wife had died. He had one small child, a daughter; no money, some debts, and a few friends. Just at that time he saw a child, recently vaccinated, in whom erysipelas had developed. Just at that time came a rich anti-vaccinationist offering him a nomination for parliament, expenses of election paid, backed by a donation of $50,000 in cash outright and promise of other financial support. Eventually Stephen Strong, the anti-vaccinationist, gave him more than a million dollars. He wavered and finally fell.

Having run for parliament, he was elected and became powerful, influential, and eventually rich. In the limelight on the question of vaccination, he was afraid to have his daughter vaccinated. Having served in parliament twenty years, he came up for reelection just at a time when a smallpox epidemic was due to break out among his unvaccinated supporters. In the midst of the campaign the disease became so widespread that vaccination again became a political issue.

Therne's daughter, now a beautiful young woman, contracted smallpox and died. When Therne saw that his daughter had smallpox his fundamental fear of the disease drove him secretly to vaccinate himself. Ten days later, while making a political speech, a person in his audience challenged him to show his arm and prove he was not vaccinated. Refusing, his sleeve was torn off and his vaccination was exposed.

Fiction sometimes strains the imagination almost as much as fact does. About twenty years ago an anti-vaccinationist speaker in Aurora, Ill., was challenged to show his arm by Dr. Heman Spalding. He refused. The crowd forced his coat off and rolled up his shirt sleeve. The man was found to have been vaccinated.

It has been my experience that most of the violently talking anti-vaccinationists have been vaccinated or have had smallpox. All of those who claim the disease is not contagious and express their willingness to expose themselves to it have been vaccinated, so far as my observation extends.

ABOUT BLOOD POISON.

W. F. writes: "(1) What causes blood poison? What is the best remedy for it? Is there any cure for it when it has gone through the system? We have a case that started in the left arm, and after it was nearly healed it started in the right foot. Now, do cases like this ever get well?

"(2) What is the cause of so many persons having carbuncles on the back of the neck? I have seen so many persons with carbuncles on their necks this winter."

REPLY.

1. The term blood poison is used very loosely. In the case you have in mind the system seems unable to wall off or to destroy the pus bacteria which gain entrance and they cause abscesses first here and then there. Such cases frequently get well, though some are incurable. The gravity of a given case depends on the kind of bacteria which infect and the degree of resistance of which the individual is capable.

2. As I walked along the street just now I saw a man with a carbuncle on his neck. The thought came into my mind that carbuncles on the neck are frequently met. This observation proves. We see the world in terms of our own experiences. I have not had a carbuncle for many years. You have suffered this winter. Among the causes of carbuncles on the neck are lack of cleanliness, use of scratchy collars, shaving the neck, diabetes, and eating too much sweets.

LUMBAGO CASES DIFFER.

R. B. writes: "1. I presume I have lumbago. Is lumbago absolutely curable?

"2. If so, how long does it usually take to cure a mild case?

"3. Please give remedy?

"4. Is there danger of it running into Bright's disease?"

REPLY.

1. Yes.
2. I have known of a case of lumbago being cured in five seconds. I have known cases to persist for five years.
3. Among successful cures for attacks of lumbago are: Vigorous use of hot liniments, massage, osteopathy, chiropractic treatment, electricity, Turkish baths. Lumbago is rheumatism of the muscles of the back. If attacks persistently recur the focus of infection should be located and then treated.
4. No.

PROBABLY NEEDS GLASSES.

Mrs. I. J. writes: "I have a daughter 6 years of age who goes to school. She never had any trouble with her eyes, but lately I have noticed that her eyes cross once in a while. I would like to know if she needs glasses or do you think it advisable to keep her home from school, as her eyes may be strained? Do you think she will outgrow it?"

REPLY.

The strength of her eye muscles is not evenly balanced. Have her eyes examined. She probably needs glasses now. She is not likely to outgrow the trouble. The probability is that properly fitting glasses will cure her trouble and operation will not be needed

SHE MARRIES AN ALIEN.

Chicago, May 5.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I wish to state that I am an American by birth and married a man of Swedish birth. He has obtained his first papers for citizenship and made application for second papers some time ago, although the latter have not yet been received.

I am told that through my marriage I have lost my rights of citizenship here and am considered a Swedish subject. In view of the fact that my husband has taken the necessary steps to become a citizen, I should like to know if my information is correct with reference to being a Swedish subject; also if it will be necessary for me to take any steps to regain or retain my rights of citizenship here. Also please advise how my children are affected through the above mentioned conditions. J. H. B.

[a] An American woman who marries a foreigner shall take the nationality of her husband. (Sec. 3, act 3-2-07.)

[b] The inquirer will again become a citizen when her husband is naturalized. (Sec. 1994, U. S. Rev. Sts.)

[c] Children born in the United States are citizens (14 Am. to Const.). Minor children (foreign born) become citizens on naturalization of parents if dwelling in United States (Sec. 2172 U. S. Rev. Stat.)

SIGN THE LEASE IN A HURRY.

Chicago, May 4.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—On the first of April, when I paid my rent, the landlord gave me two leases all filled out in legal form with his signature on each, one of which I was to sign and return to him, dated May 1. On the 19th he sent word by his daughter that she wants the flat, as she is going to be married. On the 20th I went to see him and offered the lease with my signature to him, but he declined, saying the lease is void because there were no witnesses to the signatures. Does not his signature on the lease make it binding? E. L.

The absence of witnesses is no defense, but if he withdrew before you had accepted to offer so as to make the contract valid, then you are not now entitled to stand on the lease. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A FENCE BETWEEN TREES.

Chicago, May 4.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—1. In buying a residence on thirty foot lot in Chicago, located between similar residences on adjoining lots, do I get:

(a) Half of the line fence on both sides of me, or

(b) All of one fence and none of the other?

2. If (b), which fence is it that I get?

3. If there is a law or ordinance governing this, will you please give me reference as will enable me to obtain copy?

4. If there is no regulation and such matters are left entirely to individual agreement, what is the usual custom in respect to upkeep and renewal of such fences? A. H. T.

1. Your ownership extends up to the boundary line. You own such part of one or both fences as is on your land.

2. See 1.

3. See title Fences in Revised Statutes and in 1917 session laws.

4. Adjoining owners of inclosed land share the expense equally.

LEGION NOTES

Eaton Priddy post No. 111, Woodlawn post No. 175, South Shore post No. 388, Joseph F. Ives post No. 241, and James C. Marquardt post No. 194 will hold a massmeeting tonight at the K. of C. hall, Sixty-second street and Cottage Grove avenue. A vaudeville bill will be staged. Miss Anabel McEnerny will assist in soliciting memberships.

MISS ANABEL McENERNY.
[Sarony Photo.]

Gen George Crook post No. 34 will hold a dance in the Virginia hotel Saturday night. All ex-service men are invited.

Lincoln Park post No. 302 will meet today at Prudential hall, Halsted street and North avenue. Edward Clifford, state finance officer, will be the principal speaker. The Ariston Musical revue will provide entertainment.

Tomorrow night Sinai Center post will hold a meeting open to members and their friends, both women and men, at the center, 4622 Grand boulevard. There will be dancing and refreshments.

Fifty-six new members were enrolled in Marshall Field post, No. 11, at its entertainment last night aboard the training ship Commodore, off Randolph street. Boxing bouts and vaudeville helped entertain the new legionnaires.

Hyde Park post No. 31 will hold a special athletic meeting in the Aviation club rooms, twenty-first floor, 139 North Clark street, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Every post which contemplates entering legion athletics should have a representative present, as all phases of legion athletics will be discussed, including baseball, tennis, water sports, and track.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To celebrate its first demobilization anniversary the Illinois chapter of the Rainbow division will have a smoker and buffet luncheon Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Great Northern hotel. All ex-Rainbow men are urged to be present.

Members of the 62d and 67th regiments, C. A. C., are invited to join with the army artillery park in forming a club. Those interested please communicate with W. H. Kornbeck, 1914 West Erie street, or attend a meeting next Monday at 8 p. m. at the Khaki and Blue club.

The First Division Auxiliary No. 1, A. E. F., will meet tonight in its new quarters at 165 West Madison street, Knights of Columbus clubrooms.

Former members of the 314th field signal battalion plan a gathering and entertainment. Kirby Layman, Clinton street branch of the Western Electric company; Roy Snyder, Hawthorne branch of the same company, and Glenn W. Gidding, 18 South State street, are lining up the boys for the reunion.

The semi-annual meeting of the Ex-Officers' Association of the 1st Illinois Cavalry will be held May 13 at 6 p. m. at King's restaurant, 160 W. Monroe street.

Buck Privates' Society, A. E. F., Dugout No. 1, will hold a bunco party tomorrow night in its clubrooms at 126 North Clark street.

No attention will be given to anonymous letters. To insure a personal reply inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

As but limited space can be given letters in this department, writers must confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Unless they give their full names and addresses, their letters will not be considered. No manuscript will be returned unless the writer sends postage for that purpose.

FOR THE LEGION IN POLITICS.

Chicago, May 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The American Legion is opposed to entering politics; therefore it is not a force for good legislation; therefore the drive for new members. I have not joined the American Legion, nor do I intend to, until there is some publicity given to its purpose and definite projects in view. It is an organization for the betterment and uplift of the United States, an organization to purge out un-American ideas and to instill the same brand of Americanism that won the war. Did you ever see an organization accomplish much in these channels that did not take an active, organized interest in politics? How do the big interests get what they want? How does organized labor get what it wants? Through organization and politics and having some apparent force back of it.

State what the Legion intends to do and what it wants and what it expects from congress and others, and back it up with support of the daily press and you won't have to beg ex-soldiers to come into it. Show them where they are to do some constructive work, to better conditions that exist today. Make it a sound, conservative, political organ which will be looked up to, not only by politicians but the public in general and the I. W. W. and bolsheviki in particular, and you'll find the ex-soldiers joining without a special invitation from the pulpit or "pretty girls and Gold Star mothers."
JOHN H. GAVIN.

BACK TO FIRST PRINCIPLES.

Evanston, Ill., May 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Miss Fannie Hurst, whose claim for the success of her "trial marriage" appears in this morning's TRIBUNE, fails to realize that it is mating, and not marrying, that she is lauding with so much enthusiasm. Mating took place between human beings when our ancestors lived in trees and caves. Marriage is an institution of civilization, encouraged by government for the protection and upbringing of its future citizens. Inexperienced women, of whatever age, never seem to get this lesson of history, and idealists often fail to get it, in spite of their experience.
HELEN P. DAVIS.

MILDRED HEIN COMES BACK.

Chicago, Ill., May 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—To appease Mrs. Swanson and all other women peeved about my recent article, I will say that the washerwoman statement was not meant literally. I am not reneging on my theory, however. But there are witless women, as well as men, of yokel intelligence, and the washerwoman reference applied in a general way to the uneducated or foreign born class who, because of their shortcomings, must do the hardest kind of manual labor. I have no doubt that millions of women, whom necessity compels to do their own washing and housework, or some one's else, are possessed of admirable intelligence, not to mention sense of humor.

Now, please, Mrs. Swanson, and others, don't get so mad about statements open to discussion—some of the men will never take our precious sense of humor seriously again, if you do.
MILDRED HEIN.

DEFINING AMERICANIZATION.

New York, May 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Let us have a definite definition for this word "Americanise." It seems the phrase, "to make American," does not fit, for we learn "there are Americans who need Americanization." To the business man it seems to mean more profits. To the Christian clergyman it seems to mean Christianization. To the Sinn Feiner it seems to mean making America go to war against England for Ireland and Rome. To some of our politic-statesmen it apparently means propaganda for hyphenated votes.

But there are those, I hope and trust, who still feel that to Americanise is to inculcate the lofty ideals of the fathers as expressed in the organic law of the land.

Americanization! Let us define it with the constitution and, as a movement, let us modify it with the word militant. Then will we cease blowing so much hot air and, though there be powerful and subtle forces opposing within, we will again battle at Bunker Hill and Valley Forge.
L. GLICK.

HOPES FOR A LAUGH AT WORST.

Chicago, April 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Have had more patience than most other laboring men. Their action has seemingly started organization of the railway wage board, but note how long it will be before any results are obtained. I have clipped the announcement of the board's formation and expect it to give me a laugh six months from now.

That is just the cause of the present strike, hopes and promises and in the meantime we are being gouged and mulcted by the profiteers. Let us have some of the government power that was used during the war to relieve this injustice to the average family.
W. E. L. L.

ILLUSTRATING THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

Chicago, May 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE cried "Wolf! Wolf!" editorially because nothing happened after Attorney General Palmer had taken all the steps he could, apparently, to prevent anything happening on May 1 in the nature of disorder by radicals.

THE TRIBUNE very properly claims that steps taken for such protection are not helped by sensational publicity. What medium is there for such sensational publicity other than the newspapers, of which THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is an example? Let THE TRIBUNE practice what it preaches, be consistent, and less sensational itself.

HOW ABOUT IT, FAT FOLKS?

Savanna, Ill., May 5.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Have "Doc" Robertson and "Tony" Donnelly ship their fat folks to the farmers. The farmer is short of help; the keg shaped men and stout model women are long on fat, and these three problems would be solved instanter:

1. Food production increased.
2. H. C. of L. reduced.
3. All members of the obesity band made slim and happy.

9 SELECTED TO TRY VINCI FOR ENRIGHT DEATH

Expect to Complete the Jury Today.

Eight jurors have been accepted in the trial of James Vinci, charged with having piloted the car from which the shot that killed Maurice ["Moss"] Enright was fired. Five were selected yesterday, and it is believed the jury will be completed this afternoon.

Paul Kaczmarek, 4912 George street, one of the jurors accepted in the first panel, informed Judge Sabath, his wife was in the hospital. He was excused. Alfred Lindmark, 3027 Lyndale avenue, a motion picture photographer, took his place.

The other four selected yesterday are:

PHILEAS CHAPLEAU, 5409 Monroe street, machinist.

SIDNEY W. VOLBERT, 3803 Pine Grove avenue, insurance solicitor.

JOHN MILLER, 7922 Muskegon avenue, butcher.

JESSE M. FILKINS, Park Ridge.

Vinci's Wife in Court.

Mrs. Vinci, wife of the defendant, visited the courtroom during the day, to give her husband courage. She sat near him.

Detective Sergeant John Murphy of the state's attorney's office called the judge's attention to the crowd of young men seated in the rear of the courtroom. The judge called the men before the bench.

"This, of course, is a public place and I cannot exclude you from the courtroom," he said, "but I do not understand why all you young able-bodied men are spending your time here instead of at work. You should all be at your work instead of loitering in this courtroom."

One of the crowd said he was Michael Vinci, a brother of the defendant, and he said that he had brought his friends into the court to watch the proceedings. Soon after the judge's remarks practically all of the men left the courtroom.

Call Special Venire.

A special venire of 100 men was summoned for service yesterday morning. Many of them attempted to be excused before they entered the jury box.

William Dugdale, 7653 South Union avenue, said he is the father of nine children. He did not believe he would be able to keep the family on the $3 a day allowed by the county.

"I agree with you," said the judge. "I certainly shall not force you to serve."

Edward J. Cannon, 2622 Hillock avenue, was excused. He was acquainted with both Tim Murphy and Maurice Enright. Leonard Huebner, 1316 School street, was excused when he stated that he was preparing to leave the city to become a farmer.

AUTO CRASH KILLS PHYSICIAN.

Racine, Wis., May 5.—Dr. Thomas J. McCoy, prominent physician, died early this morning of injuries suffered in an automobile accident last Monday.

FATHER WHO KILLED SON TO "SAVE HIM" ARRAIGNED IN COURT

FRANK PIANO SR.

One of the defendants arraigned yesterday before Judge George F. Barrett was Frank Piano Sr., who shot and killed his son Frank, 18 years old, "to save his soul." Upon the plea of his attorney, W. W. Witty, Judge Barrett continued the case until May 17.

Two months ago Piano found his son in the center of a group of admiring companions, dragging of his prowess as a fighter. There were words and the father fired three shots into the son's body. A few days later the boy died. He forgave his father.

Piano said he did not intend to kill his son, but that it was better that the boy should die by his father's hand than by a policeman's bullet.

France Will Decorate Graves of Yanks May 30

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

PARIS, May 5.—The French government has decided to take part officially in the celebration of Memorial day, May 30. At the ministry of foreign affairs today it was announced military ceremonies will be held at all American cemeteries. Flowers will be laid on the graves and in the towns meetings are to be addressed by leading men.

FUND TO DECK GRAVES GROWS, BUT NOT ENOUGH

The voice of the captain lost its hardness as the flag draped coffin was lowered.

"Parade rest," he ordered softly.

Then the bugler played "taps."

With the last note of the most mournful call of the army the whining of wires on the wings of the five diving airplanes was heard. The planes drove straight at the grave, the motors idling, the wires singing, the propeller moaning through the wind. Two hundred feet from the ground, the pilots threw down roses, pulled up their ships, opened the throttles, and flew away.

That was the funeral of an aviator.

That grave will be decorated this coming Memorial day. Yesterday Maj. C. A. La Salle sent $1 and a letter to THE TRIBUNE memorial fund. "In memory of the 200 flying officers I saw killed in France," the letter said.

Contributions increased yesterday. During the day Alfred C. Ward, cashier, who is handling the contributions, received $373.93, which brings the grand total to $1,365.24.

Fred E. Sterling, editor of the Register-Gazette of Rockford, Ill., sent a check for $10. H. H. D. sent $3 for the grave of Elliot Durand Jr. The employés of R. R. Donnelley corporation sent $10. The girls of F. A. Hardy & Co. sent in $5.75. The girls in the jewelry department of Sears, Roebuck & Co. sent in $13. The Chicago Outdoor Art league contributed $25. John Bolger, who "had the good luck to get back," sent $5.

Flannel Suits

HERE'S another value demonstration that should crowd our Clothing floors. Every Suit should command many dollars more than the price we're asking. They're marked on the narrowest margin of profit possible. When they're gone we will not be able to duplicate such values.

You know that Flannels are extremely popular—they're serviceable and are offered in many of the season's attractive shades of blue, brown and green; quarter-lined; inside patch pockets; single and double-breasted; regular, slim and cadet.

Factory Trucks—Warehouse Trucks—Freight-house Trucks

Do You Need Truckers?

The answer is "yes," because every man responsible for the internal handling of goods by trucks needs more truckers and can't get them.

Better Trucks relieve this situation by enabling your present force to handle more goods at a decreased cost per ton mile.

One man can handle, on an easy running Hyatt-equipped truck, loads that require two and three men on an ordinary friction bearing truck. He does it without overexertion and can keep it up all day without excessive fatigue.

Give a hundred Hyatt equipped trucks to your gang and see them fight to get one of these husky, easy running trucks that lightens the load and keeps truckers in good humor.

"A Gentleman to See You"

If the gentleman is one of the Hyatt Better Truck Engineers it will pay you to see him and talk with him for a few minutes.

He knows truck designs, truck materials, truck specifications—but best of all he knows Better Truck Performance. Performance counts and when you hear the story of quality trucks that perform their work quickly, economically, and constantly, you will want them to perform for you.

Remember Better Trucks are not special—they are just capable trucks built of honest materials by progressive manufacturers.

WETS ARE WILY, BRYAN WARNING TO METHODISTS

Wants Church on Guard Over Presidency.

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIOT.

Des Moines, Ia., May 5.—[Special.]—"No man neeed aspire to nomination in either party until he announces where he stands on the prohibition question," declared William J. Bryan at a special meeting at the Methodist quadrennial conference here tonight.

"Three of the Democratic nominees, I am ashameed to say, have announced that they are on the wet side; no Republican, however, has declared himself. Prohibition is not a partisan question," he said. "It was voted for by Democrats and Republicans alike. I am proud of the lead taken in the matter by the Democratic party, but I am an American before I am a Democrat.

Wants Churches on Guard.

"I hope that the Methodist church, and all other churches, will have a delegation at both presidential conventions to see the agitation of the wets is brought to naught. The wets are very active at this time, and the drys are dormant. It is for this reason that I hope woman suffrage is enacted before June 28 at the latest.

"Then the drys will be reinforced by 26,000,000. I believe that unrest of today is due more to profiteering than to any other one cause.

"Is the church doing its duty in bringing the employer and the employé together? The only solution to their problem lies in the golden rule, and it is time that the church took an active and a positive stand in applying it, or seeing that it is applied.

Would Attack Profiteers.

"Drive the profiteers out of the churches; profiteers are more dangerous than highwaymen. Why, in my town, a man was discovered to be selling suits for $97.50 that had cost him $13.60."

Mr. Bryan lauded the W. C. T. U. and the Anti-saloon league for their part in the dry campaign, which he characterized as "the greatest moral victory ever won at the polls."

"I am anxious for a league of nations, with or without reservations," he said. "Shame on our politicians for settling the question on the basis of which party should benefit by it."

Discusses New York Fight.

William H. Anderson, a delegate, said the sectarian issue raised in New York had been a ruse of the wets. He said also:

"The beer bill there was put through by the connivance of wet Republicans and wet Democrats to oust the Socialists. It is infamous to thus use a moral question to decide a political issue."

Wants Dry Philippines.

The scriptural "isles of the seas" were heard from when Andreas Pasqual, delegate from the Philippine islands, offered a resolution, which was adopted unanimously, asking that enforcement of the dry amendment to the United States constitution be extended to the Philippines.

"Prohibition will be beneficial not only for the natives of the Philippine islands but for the Americans there as well," said Mr. Pasqual.

Nurse Denies She Took Funds Belonging to Relative in Asylum.

A jury in Judge Kersten's court is expected to return a verdict this morning in the case of Mrs. Sallie Thornton, a widow, charged with taking $8,000 belonging to her sister, Miss Minnie Behrend, 2856 North Clark street.

Garbed as a nurse, Mrs. Thornton on the witness stand yesterday denied the accusations.

Miss Behrend testified that while she was a patient at Kankakee insane asylum Mrs. Thornton took the money and refused to return it after Miss Behrend was declared sane.

THEFT OF $8,000 BONDS IN JOLIET PUZZLES SLEUTHS

Every night for a little over a month an operative of the Pinkerton National detective agency has taken the 5 o'clock train to Joliet—every night save Saturday and Sunday. Every night it has been a different operative. Always the operative converses with a certain young man. The young man is a messenger for the First National Bank of Joliet. He comes into Chicago with securities and takes the 5 o'clock train back.

The messenger escorted $25,000 worth of Liberty bonds to the bank one night last month. The bank was closed, but he let himself in with his key and deposited the bonds in a certain drawer. The next morning $8,000 worth of the bonds had disappeared.

The Pinkertons were called into the case, but the robbery was not made public. Bank officials deny any knowledge of the case. But the detectives have been trying to get the messenger to talk about bonds, or bank robberies, or other matters that might give a clew.

CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS!!!

Several weeks ago we announced in our big "What Goes UP—must come down" advertisement the downfall of high priced woolens and trimmings. All honest clothing manufacturers will agree that woolens have dropped $1 to $2 a yard. They know it too well—in fact, most of them are loaded right now with high priced merchandise. We know, because we just purchased $115,000 worth of woolens at nearly normal prices. And we're going to sell them at nearly normal prices. Every piece marked in plain English figures—no Chinese codes. The ready made stores cannot sell at these low prices—they must unload their high priced garments first. You can now buy at Sell Bros. a good made to measure suit with extra pants for as little as $30. "What went up—is coming down" and we did our bit to help it down. Come and see!

KEEPING PACE WITH THE TIMES

Present conditions prevent the adherence to former institutional policies. In previous years O-G sales and selling events occurred at regular intervals—as a result of a steady market and normal conditions. Today, however, it becomes necessary to swerve from formerly rigid principles—to govern this business from the public's viewpoint, rather than from the dictates of the business itself. These are times when good will means more than profit. Accordingly, it is necessary to keep faith with the public—to reduce prices when reduced prices are wanted.

TORY OF STORY AUTO'S JOY RIDE A BIT TANGLED

mebody equivocated.

rs. Gladys Virginia Jacobsen and Frances Cohen say they didn't.

Story and E. M. Love say they n't. Walter Sherron, the chauffeur the Story Piano company.

They all denied they had been to- ther in an automobile crash at Mich- an avenue and Sixteenth street Tues- y night, after Mrs. Jacobsen had ad- itted it and Mr. Story had both ad- itted and denied it.

Mr. Story and Mr. Love spent yes- day in the quiet of their suite at e Congress hotel. Mrs. Jacobsen ad not to be disturbed at the Ply- outh hotel. Miss Cohen was "rest- ng easy" at St. Luke's hospital.

Resting, but a Bit Uneasy.

Mr. Story and Mr. Love were rest- g, but were not as easy as the others. rs. Story and Mrs. Love are in Cali- rnia. The Story home at Riverside s closed except for the servants.

W. D. Keefe, manager of the Story ano company, was appointed official ainer by Mr. Story. "I'd rather ve talk to him," he said weakly. "The ers have it all wrong."

"Say, this is awful," Mr. Keefe said, rvously. "The car was stolen. That's t there is to it. Mr. Story wasn't in t at all."

"But he said he was, and was un- nscious from the fall he got," he as told.

"Mrs. Jacobsen says he was with em. She named them all. The po- e say there was an accident and the hauffeur, Mr. Love, and Mr. Story, ent to the hotel in a cab and the rls were looked after by the police."

Detectives on the Job.

"Terrible!" said Mr. Keefe. "Mis- kes like that happen, you know. I've t two detectives trying to find out o the men were."

Mr. Story says it was he. First he d there were no women. Then he admitted there were. Are he and Mrs. Story divorced?"

"No, heavens no!"

Filling for the cup that cheers was found by South Park Policemen Schoendorfen and Roden in a satchel in the wrecked car, which the occupants at first said left Colisimo's after a happy supper.

MRS. ANNA GLASSCOCK: YOUR BABY IS DYING AND CRIES FOR YOU

Unless Mrs. Anna Glasscock, who disappeared from her home at 8 East Pearson street last Monday, is found soon her husband fears their baby's life may be forfeited.

MRS. ANNA GLASSCOCK.

Mrs. Glasscock had been in a hospital until less than a month ago and was ill when she left home. She had no funds.

Relatives and friends say she was despondent and fear she may have ended her life. She is 22 years old, 5 feet tall, and weighs 100 pounds.

"Our baby is seriously ill," said her husband. "Unless she returns soon it may be too late. I don't know why Anna left. We had no quarrel."

Art and Shoes

ANYONE can draw a picture and color it, but the man who does it best in his generation is acclaimed an artist. Anyone can shape leather over a wooden last and call it a shoe, but there have been only a few truly great shoemakers in America.

In 1853 Edwin Clapp opened a shoe factory devoted to the making of Better Shoes for Men than had ever before been made. For nearly seventy years this policy has been followed, with the result that Edwin Clapp Shoes are generally recognized as realizing the Highest Standard of Excellence.

EDWIN CLAPP OXFORDS FOR WOMEN are now on display in both Chicago stores. Women especially appreciate our Kangaroo Oxfords, giving all the comfort of kidskin combined with the wearing qualities of calfskin.

FAMOUS CIGARETTES

Rounds

How it happened—

"Have one."

"Light another."

"Fill your case," punctuated every conversation on the transports going over.

Captain X had taken with him a liberal supply of Pall Mall famous cigarettes (plain ends). By the time he landed they were gone.

"Over There" he couldn't have a favorite brand. But the cigarettes he was lucky enough to get had one feature that gave him a big idea. They were round and smoked freely.

Back in America once more the Captain came and gave us his idea,—a big idea. He suggested that we make Pall Mall cigarettes round in shape, loosely rolled and plain end—a cigarette that does not have to be tapped, squeezed or loosened, a cigarette with a free and easy draught,

A cigarette made from the famous Pall Mall blend of 42 Turkish tobaccos chosen for richness and delicacy of flavor,

CRANE BOYS HIT AT HIGH PITCHES; LOSE GAME, 14-8

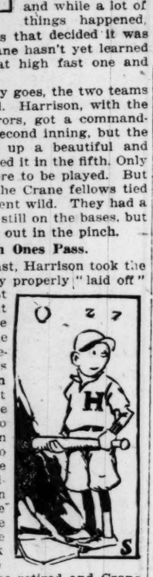
BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

When father was a school boy it was the custom to shoot the high fast one around the batter's neck and watch him fan. They're doing the same thing today, except in a few cases, where the schoolboy team has a coach who can make his boys "lay off" the high fast one and wait for the good one. In a pretty combat yesterday Crane High was beaten by Harrison High, 14 to 8, and while a lot of things happened, one of the things that decided it was the fact that Crane hasn't yet learned to "lay off" that high fast one and Harrison has.

As far as ability goes, the two teams are well matched. Harrison, with the help of some errors, got a commanding lead in the second inning, but the Crane boys put up a beautiful and game fight and tied it in the fifth. Only seven innings were to be played. But just as soon as the Crane fellows tied the count they went wild. They had a couple of fellows still on the bases, but the batter struck out in the pinch.

Let High Ones Pass.

Then, in contrast, Harrison took the offensive and very properly "laid off" the high, fast one. The result was that in the seventh, after the first man was retired, two batters drew bases on balls. The next fanned, but the following two walked, forcing in the run needed to win. Then Crane blew and Harrison grew bold. An error and a home run and a single and another base on balls took place before the third man could be retired and Crane was hopelessly beaten.



The game proved that it's hard to keep high school boys steady in a game of ball. They have too much enthusiasm. The team that isn't coached at all will die swinging at everything and trying to knock the ball out of the lot. Swinging is one thing that high school boys can do. And they love to swing at those high ones around their ears or even above their heads. They will stand still and spit at one that goes over in the grove just above their knees and then fan out on a high one, apparently never realizing that the ball just above their knees is the one that might be swatted with ease, while the high one is a tough one even to foul off.

Good Team, but Green.

Prof. Ruyter, who directs the work of the Crane boys, has splendid material on hand, but it is a bit green. He has a good hitting squad, a capable set of fielders and a strong battery, and if he could have a few more months to drill the crew he undoubtedly would construct a team that would bother any of the "prep" outfits of the county.

In Frank Saracco, a tall and wiry Italian lad, he has a pitcher who has more than ordinary speed, and can throw a curve, but in the pinch he failed to get the ball over the plate. It looked at times as if he thought he could fan his opponents with that high one, but his opponents acted as if they had beeen instructed to let it alone.

Romadka at Home in Mask.

Fritz Romadka is the other end of the battery for Crane, and seems at home behind the bat. John Ludvik is a tall and sturdy fellow for first base, and showed a splendid spirit and a lot of defensive strength. Johnny Landers, at second, poled a couple of two baggers, one of them counting in the rally that tied the score. John stole third in the last of the seventh, after two were out, and his team needed six runs to tie, for which there seems to be no excuse except enthusiasm.

Joe Ocenaske, shortstop, was one of the flashy fellows in the game, with four stolen bases and a couple of real blows, and "Wap" Regali, that's what the boys call him handled things at third nicely. In the outfield were Emil Andrlik, Bill Egan and "Morrie" Meyers. The latter two have traditional baseball names, but didn't do the business turned out by Mr. Andrlik, who got two singles, one double and was hit by a pitched ball in four trips to the plate. Score:

CARP BAITS.

THE carp is by choice a vegetarian. At times they are caught on angle worms and pieces of clam or dead minnows, but the most effective baits are of vegetable matter. A good one is made as follows: Mix up a stiff flapjack batter of flour and water; heat a griddle or frying pan, slightly greased. Put in a layer of batter, then a layer of cotton, then another layer of batter on that. When it is cooked on one side turn it over and cook the other. Roll up when cool and cut into pieces.

Here's one contributed by "Sucker": Make a stiff dough of water and red dog flour or white wheat middlings, either of which contains more gluten than white flour, and the finished product is, as a result, more like rubber. Roll into small balls of the desired size and drop into a kettle of boiling water. After boiling a minute or two they will rise to the surface, when they should immediately be plunged into cold water. This toughens them and they will remain in water for a week without softening. The only things which can get them off the hooks are turtles and gars."

Half boiled potatoes, macaroni boiled just enough to become flexible but not soft, a few kernels of canned corn strung on the hook, stiff bread dough wrapped in netting, such as is used to cover fruit baskets, are all standard carp baits.

The practice of baiting the ground is common in England, where taking carp on hook and line has been much studied. Oatmeal is often used for this purpose, but inasmuch as the cary is usually found on muddy bottom something white should work better. We have never tried it, but we believe that boiled rice would make an ideal ground bait.

MAYO, BRITISH 'PRO,' HERE TO START WORK AT EDGEWATER CLUB

BY JOE DAVIS.

Another strong addition to Chicago's golfing colony was made last night by the arrival of Charles H. Mayo, the English international player, who has signed with the Edgewater Golf club.

CHAS. H. MAYO.

The new arrival in the golfing hub of this country is 35 years of age, is 5 feet 9 inches in height, and weighs 10 stone 4 pound, the American equivalent being 144 pounds. For the last thirteen years he has been with the Burhill club in Surrey. Since 1906 he has represented England in all its international matches. He has won prizes in the British isles and in Switzerland, France, Belgium, and Germany.

Makes Great Record.

In 1906 Mayo was runner up in the News of World tournament and two years later was a semi-finalist. With George Duncan as his partner the team won the Dewar Challence Shields in 1908 and the same team defeated Edward Ray and Tom Vardon in a special match for $1,000 the same year. Mayo was runner up in the French championship in 1908 and won the Belgian championship in 1911. In 1909 he won the qualifying round for the British open championship at Deal. Three years later he won the international tournament at Vichy.

President H. A. Lundahl of the Edgewater club, Phil Gaudin of Skokie, and a number of local golfers met Mayo on his arrival and escorted him to the Edgewater club, where he will assume his duties today. Mrs. Mayo and a daughter and son completed the party.

Pull Change at Midlothian.

The Midlothian club has made a change in its handicapping system, instead of taking the five lowest scores as a basis, all the lowest scores made during a period, as determined by the committee, will be averaged, and this then averaged with the preceding period's average score, continuing in this manner throughout the season, thereby obtaining an average of the player for the entire season as it progresses.

SCHURZ BEATS LANE, 8 TO 1.

Smashing the Techs' defense for three runs in the first round, Schurz carried off an 8 to 1 victory against Lane in another north section game at Stanton park. Score:

Schurz .....3 0 5 0 0 0 0—8 8 4
Lane .....0 1 0 0 0 0 0—1 6 3

Tribune Decisions

Decisions of The Tribune fight representatives are:

At Cincinnati—Bryan Downey knocked out Frankie Brennan [6].

At Fond du Lac—Sammy Marino vs. Georgie Adams, stopped by referee as "no contest" [4]; Chick Remick beat Packy Hogan [10]; Johnny Herzog beat Sammy Nichols [4].

At Salt Lake—Gilbert Gallant knocked out Pat Gilbert [1].

Bryan Downey Knocks Out Brennan in Sixth Round

Cincinnati, O., May 5.—[Special.]—Bryan Downey of Columbus tonight knocked out Frankie Brennan in the sixth round of their scheduled fifteen round bout at the open air arena at Elmwood place. Despite the cold, overcoated fight fans packed every available inch of space. It was evident after the first round that Downey would win.

Adams-Marino Ring Go Stopped as "No Contest"

Fond du Lac, Wis., May 5.—[Special.]—Sammy Marino of New York and Georgie Adams of Chicago were disqualified in the fourth round by Referee Jaeger tonight for refusing to fight. The purse for both boys was held up pending the boxing commission's decision. Chick Remick outpointed Packy Hogan in ten rounds. Remick scored a clean knockdown over Hogan in the sixth round. Johnny Herzog of Oshkosh and Sammy Nichols went four fast rounds, with the shade going to Herzog.

Another Marathon Tryout for Olympic Games Team

New York, May 5.—A marathon race at the regular Olympic games distance, which will receive official recognition as a tryout for the international event, will be held here June 5 by the New York Athletic club. The Olympic committee decided that because of the lapse of time between the Boston Marathon last month and the Antwerp race, another tryout in June would aid in the selection of the men to represent this country.

WHITNEY'S NAGS DISPLAY SPEED IN DERBY TRIAL

Louisville, Ky., May 5.—Derby candidates of the first flights were sent through their final trials at Churchill Downs this morning, and the leading development was the fact that Damask and Wildair will be the chief dependencies of the Harry Payne Whitney stable, with Upset a possible starter. Damask and Wildair worked together a mile and a quarter in 2:08 3-5. Wildair finished a length and a half in front of Damask. The fractionals were: :24:3-5, :49, 1:15, 1:41 3-5, 1:54 4-5, 2:08 3-5. Upset worked alone a mile and a quarter in 2:10.

Although the Whitney colts scored the fastest time of the day, Donnaconna's trial was not less impressive. The big bay stepped the mile and a quarter in 2:09 3-5, under a strong hold. On Watch worked the first mile with Donnaconna. The fractionals were: :24, :49 3-5, 1:16, 1:43 1-5, 1:56, 2:09 3-5.

Pat Prince went away from the starting pole faster than any of the candidates. He went to the quarter in :23 2-5, three eighths in :35, half in :48, five eighths in 1:02, six furlongs in 1:14, mile in 1:41 3-5, and mile and a quarter in 2:09.

Peace Pennant breezed six furlongs in 1:15. His rider was instructed to work him in 1:18 and had a hard hold on him all the way, but could not hold him to a slower pace than 1:15.

Travers Not Knocked Out, Declares Referee Purdy

Reports that Jimmy Travers had been knocked out by Marty Henderson in the eighth round at Aurora on Tuesday night brought out denials yesterday. Travers and Ed Purdy, the referee, stated the bout was stopped after Henderson had butted Travers and knocked him to the floor. The referee called it "no contest."

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

FABER'S ERRORS GIVE CLEVELAND VICTORY, 3 TO 2

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Urban "Red" Faber's fielding, not his pitching, brought about the downfall of the White Sox yesterday, Tris Speaker's Indians grabbing the first of a five game series by a narrow 3 to 2 margin. Faber perpetrated a wild throw to first that let a run score in the fifth, breaking a 1 to 1 tie. Later in the clash Hap Felsch booted one and another Indian counted, but the real damage was inflicted when Faber went wrong.

STANLEY COVELESKIE.

In everything but fielding the Gleason crew had all the best of the argument. They soaked Stanley Coveleskie, the Indiana hurling ace, for a hit or more in practically every inning. In the pinches, however, Covey's spitball was a bit too much to fathom, the best part of it, from a Cleveland standpoint, being that it stopped E. Collins and Joe Jackson, two of Gleason's prize wreckers.

Six Hits Off Faber.

Faber was so effective that the Indians, who are considerable stickers, gathered only six singles. Four of them came one to an inning, while the remaining two were bunched in the first frame for the Tribe's only earned run of the matinée.

Against the half dozen Indian clouts the Sox collected nine, one a triple and one a double. Only two of them were of any aid, however, being responsible for a tally going over in the second and tying the score. The other run was a gift, due to an error by Chapman in the ninth. That blunder was the only one committed by the Indians.

Visitors First to Score.

The day started inauspiciously for the home rooters, when Graney opened Cleveland's initial round with a clean single between Jourdan and E. Collins. Chapman very properly moved him along with a sacrifice. Speaker came through with a pokey bounder that neither Risberg nor Weaver could reach, and it went for a hit, Graney going to third. Smith then cracked a high one to Felsch and Graney hustled home after the catch. Additional runs seemed probable when Jourdan fumbled Gardner's roller, but Wamby grounded into a force out to end the inning.

Leibold started the Sox half with a single, but didn't get anywhere. In the second, however, Felsch lined a hot one to left and it caromed off Graney's shin for a double. Jourdan's sacrifice shunted Felsch to third and Risberg drove him across with the tying run on a fisingle to center. Risberg died stealing, Schalk walked, and Faber produced a third out by tapping to Gardner.

Fatal Mistake in Sixth.

The sixth brought the fatal mistake. It started with Smith's legitimate single to left. Gardner drew a pass. Wamby bunted toward the slab. Faber had plenty of time to force the runner at third, but slipped and fell. He recovered and heaved to first and Collins, who covered, wasn't quite tall enough to pull in the throw. Meanwhile Smith scored and Gardner went to third. Johnston then fouled out and O'Neill lofted to center. Felsch made a great throw to the plate and Schalk nipped Gardner, who started home after the catch.

O'Neill blew open the ninth with a one base knock to center and continued to third when Felsch let the ball get away. Coveleskie fanned, but Graney's fly to right was healthy enough to permit O'Neill's scoring, although he might have been out had Schalk held the ball.

Error Gives Run to Sox.

In the Sox ninth Risberg walked and moved to second on Schalk's roller to Johnston. Murphy came up to bat for Faber and flunked out on a grass cutter to Coveleskie. Chapman then made a short throw on Leibold's smash and the error let Risberg register. It ended when Weaver was retired, Wamby to Johnston.

NOTES

Indians and Sox again today.

Although the weather was spicy, about 14,000 turned out to welcome the Sox back to their home lot.

Doc Johnston, the Indian's first sacker, is bothered by a Charley horse and has a terrible time getting down to first base.

Coveleskie has pitched the first game of each series indulged in by the Indians this season. He has won each time, yesterday's victory being his sixth straight.

When Schalk slid into second in the seventh he nicked Chapman's hand with his spikes. All the Indians immediately rusred to the spot, apparently anxious for a battle. Nothing happened.

Notes

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 5.—[Special.]—Three more games here.

Merkle knocked down a hit from Cutshaw in the fourth and recovered in time to peg to Martin on first. Martin finished with a good stab of the throw, which was a hard one to negotiate.

Catcher Schmidt broke into harness for the first time this season. He has been holding out, but the improvement in the playing of the Pirates tempted him back into the fold lest he lose some world's series coin.

Hollocher lost a stolen base in the ninth because of the rule revision last winter. He singled after two were gone and the Pirates made no attempt to keep him on first, so he sneaked to second while Robertson was striking out. That is merely a "fielder's choice" this year.

ADAMS PITCHES LIKE 1909 WORLD SERIES, BLANKING CUBS, 2-0

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 5.—[Special.]—Charles Adams, better known as Babe when he won a world's pennant back in 1909, shut the Cubs out, 2 to 0, today in their opening game of the year at Forbes field. Speed Martin opposed the veteran of many campaigns and held the Pirates to four hits, which were no more than the Cubs made off Adamss. But a couple of the local swats were of the third dimension. That's why the Buc- twice while we didn't.

"SPEED" MARTIN. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Both teams were shaken up, the Cubs more vigorously than their opponents. Manager Mitchell gave three of his campaigners a rest to see if it would improve their batting. Herzog, and Paskert joined Killefer on the bench. In their places were Zeb Terry and Turner Barber, while Merkle went to his old station, where Barber has been subbing.

Robbie Third in Batting Order.

In making these switches the Cub boss found occasion to elevate Robertson in the batting order from seventh to third place in recognition of the telling stick work he has been doing recently. The promotion did not help Robby's swatting any, but nobody was stinging the pill very hard today.

The pitchers' battle was marred by only one scar—that a pass by Martin in the fourth. It was the only one of the game. Adams recently went thirty-five rounds without giving a base on balls and apparently is starting out to beat that mark. Speed's lone free ticket preceded one of the Pirates three base hits, so was good for one of their round trip tickets. The other was the product of a triple and a single in the first. The Cubs had just one chance to score off Adams and lost that for lack of a sacrifice.

Pirates in Flying Start.

The Buccaneers grabbed the lead at the take-off with one run. Cutshaw pulled a triple into left center with one down. Whitted banged a single to center and scored the tally. Southworth popped and Whitted was flagged stealing.

The second run occurred in the fourth. Whitted worked Martin for a pass with one gone. Southworth forced him, then stole second, but it did not matter in the least, for Nicholson followed with a loud smash inside the third base line for three bases. Caton rolled the side out and only one more Pirate reached first base during the game.

Derby Special.

Lexington, Ky., May 5.—[Special to Chicago Wake.]—Passed night in stall of Donnacona, which is being played by a lot of Ed D'Ancona's friends in Chicago because of the name. Donnacona is a sweet looking colt. He ought to be. He is owned by G. W. Loft, the candy man. Don is a sociable and democratic chap, despite his aristocratic breeding, and spoke freely of his chances as follows:

"My old gent, Prince Palatine, just sold for $250,000, but that's nix to me. I roll the African golf pills for myself and you'll see me make a lot of passes in the Derby. Come, you seven. On Watch and me will sure fade that Whitney trio. I was a little short in that last game with Peace Pennant. At that, I started with a shoestring and had too much ground to make up, but I outrolled Damask."

Donnacona has advised me to take a look at Distinction, although ladies seldom win Derbies. I will do so.

I loathe a chinchy-fisted pup
And hate a stingy sport,
But I refuse to set 'em up
At twenty bucks a quart.

When I've got something on my hip
These days—no use to talk,
Nobody else will get a sip.
For money, love, or chalk;
I like to pass the flowing cup,
And social cheer I court;
But I refuse to set 'em up
At twenty bucks a quart.

You Wouldn't Be Sick if His Nurse Were Mary Miles Minter?

"NURSE MARJORIE."

Produced by American.
Directed by Edward Sloman.
Presented at the Playhouse.

THE CAST.

Nurse Marjorie.....Mary Miles Minter
John Danbury.....Clyde Fillmore
Mr. Danbury, Sr.....George Periolat
Mrs. Danbury.....Molly MacConnell
Lord Douglas Fittstrevor.....Frank Leigh
Duchess of Donegal.....Vera Lewis
Duke of Donegal.....Arthur Hoyt
Dick.....Frankie Lee
Biddy O'Mulligan.....Lydia Yeamans Titus

By Caroline Sanborn.

You wouldn't mind how sick you were or how many relapses you had if you could have Nurse Marjorie to take care of you. At least, that is what a certain member of the house of commons thought and he didn't even suspect her real identity.

MARY MILES MINTER.

For away from the Oakdale Nursing home she was none other than Lady Marjorie Killonan, with a stern English mother and a charming, irresponsible Irish father. From the former she inherited her practical good sense; from the latter her sunny disposition, and the streak of roguishness that endeared her to all who met her.

In her trim riding habit of the calico costume of O'Mulligan's Irish Fish emporium, Mary Miles Minter is bewitching. But in her neat white uniform, every bobbing curl in place, she is—well, you must see for yourself just how adorably tender and serious she can be.

The story is a cheerful one, with plenty of humorous quirks to sustain the interest. Haughty relatives and an aristocratic suitor, germs and labor agitations, all play their part. The cause of a good deal of his trouble and most of the ultimate happiness is a novel one, a squint in the hero's eye. When it has been removed and a threatening moral squint smoothed out, everything goes forward merrily.

Frankie Lee is still the same nice boy. Like others of his age and sex, he is a bit sulky when he don't have his own way, but with a broken leg and no parents, who wouldn't be? Lydia Yeamans Titus, as Biddy O'Mull ligan, does some clever character work.

A Friend in Need

Sally Joy Brown

I want to be the medium through which the friend in deed and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded article which has not outgrown its usefulness that will make some less fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to go about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When information is wanted by mail a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

Wants a Baby's Crib.

"I wonder if some one has a bassinet or a baby's crib that is not in use. My baby is 2 weeks old, and the doctor wants me to have it sleep alone. I cannot afford to buy one, but I should be glad to pay express charges, if some kind reader can let me have it.

"MRS. H. M."

I shall be happy to give Mrs. H. M.'s name and address to any mother who can spare her the desired crib or bassinet.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Every high school miss who wishes to take her organdy examination should know these facts. First, that the fichu or surplice neck is one of the most popular and becoming for girls in their teens. Second, that shell pink organdy is immensely the vogue, both for her and her younger sister. Third, that trimmings of contrasting organdy are effective.

These points are exemplified in the above model for the girl of from 14 to 18, and an extra point of enlightenment is found in the fine white lace introduced here. The flowers on the surplice bodice and between the insertions of the skirt are handmade ones of white organdy. The same model is equally lovely in buttercup yellow.

SALAD GARDENS

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Mark off a smallspace about ten feet square along one side of your garden and fill it with salad crops. The small gardener in the city, where plenty of water is available, has excellent facilities for a good salad garden.

The salad garden fits in well with the vegetable garden and fits in nicely in one corner of many yards where there is a space ten or fifteen feet square that is not shaded. It can be started to advantage in a corner or along a fence, for the fence may be used to train the tomato vines on when they are large enough to stake, and to support cucumber vines.

The list of crops may include several vegetables and fresh, crispy vegetables may be had throughout the summer. Gardeners will probably always list lettuce among their best salad crops, but it can be supplemented by others, some of which are not well known in this section. For instance, the endives, both the French and curled varieties, are worth space.

Lettuce may be planted along with tomatoes, for it will be out of the way before the tomato plants are large enough to shade the ground sufficiently to interfere with the lettuce's growth. A common plan is to set two rows of tomato plants about twenty-four inches apart along the fence and raise between the rows an early crop of lettuce. A row of the cresses and corn salad should be planted to take the place of lettuce when it is out of season. A late planting of lettuce should be made.

Turnip rooted celery may be started in boxes and transplanted later to the row where lettuce was raised early. Its cultural requirements are about the same as celery, except blanching is omitted, as the root is the edible portion.

The French endive will need all summer to make its growth. Its roots are taken up and placed in boxes in the cellar, and the leaves that come from the roots after they are placed in the cellar are used for salads. Curled endive sown in June makes good salad material in the fall. The upright cress also is at its best in the fall.

Beheld a Large Blue Eye.

I have been living in a flat with another woman who was of a curious nature. She had half of the rooms and I the other half. The doors were always kept closed between our separate little apartments.

One day, hearing some strange noises in her rooms and also becoming quite curious myself, I got down on my hands and knees and peeked through the keyhole. To my great surprise and fright I beheld a large blue eye at the keyhole.

The next time we met was quite an embarrassing moment, to say the least.

Chicago Will Have Society Delegation at Kentucky Derby

Chicago will be well represented at the Kentucky Derby at Louisville Saturday. Mrs. John D. Black of 222 East Delaware place, Dr. and Mrs. Francis Walls of 999 Lake Shore drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wills of 1512 Lakeborn parkway are motoring to Louisville and will be joined there tomorrow by Mr. Black, who is going by rail.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Elting of 117 East Delaware place, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Fox of 20 East Goethe street, and Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway Watson of 510 Wellington avenue are motoring tomorrow. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prindiville of 229 East Lake Shore drive and Gerald Cudahy of 1254 Michigan avenue also will leave tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Keebler of 5714 Sheridan road will attend the Derby. They will have as their guests their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Keebler, who will go to Louisville from French Lick Springs, where they are spending a fortnight. Mr. Keebler's sister, Mrs. K. L. Buchanan, also will be in the party.

Mrs. Alvin C. McCord of 1532 North State parkway will give a luncheon today at the Saddle and Cycle club for Miss Lucy Lord, daughter of Mrs. Susan R. Lord of 190 East Chestnut street, and Miss Lucretia Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Green of 1211 Astor street. Miss Green's engagement to Byron Weston of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weston of Pittsfield, Mass., was announced recently.

The annual meeting of the Cordon will be held in the clubrooms in the Fine Arts building at 7 o'clock tonight.

The annual spring luncheon of the Chicago Wellesley club will be held Saturday at 1 o'clock at the Woman's Athletic club. Two new reels of moving pictures taken on the college grounds will be shown. Reservations must be made not later than tomorrow morning with Mrs. George R. Carr, 936 Lake Shore drive, telephone Superior 523.

The Alliance Française will have a rummage sale next week. Articles for the sale should be left before Saturday at room 406 Fine Arts building, 2620 Sampden court, or 438 Belmont avenue. To have packages which cannot be left at one of the above addresses called for, telephone Harrison 2858.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney returned yesterday from a three months' trip in Europe and are at the Blackstone until the end of the week, when they will go to Lake Forest for the summer. Arthur T. Aldis, who accompanied them abroad, will return in about a week.

Mrs. Swift Fernald of 1200 Lake Shore drive, who returned last week from a short trip to California, has left for New York, whence she will sail on Saturday for England, where she will spend the summer. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Swift, and her brothers, Louis F. Jr. and William, will return to their Lake Forest residence on May 15 from Montecito.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Sprague II. of 130 Lake Shore drive will return today from a fortnight's visit in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Sprague will open their Lake Forest house next week.

Announcement is made of the birth of a daughter on Tuesday at St. Luke's hospital to Mr. and Mrs. William S. Bacon of New York. Mrs. Bacon was formerly Katherine Blossom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Blossom of Hubbard Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lamont Jr. of Perry Park ranch, Larkspur, Colo., are being congratulated on the birth of a son on Monday. Mrs. Lamont formerly was Jean Hopkins of Hubbard Woods.

Among the young women who will assist Mrs. John H. McIlvaine of 449 Surry avenue in ushering at the matinée benefit tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock at Cohan's Grand Opera house for the Ell Bates settlement house are Miss Lucretia Green, Miss Helen Hoyne, Miss Eleanor Holden, Mrs. Langston Hettler, Mrs. T. Philip Swift, and Miss Harriet McLaughlin.

Catholic Laymen Meet in Convention Here to Form National Body

Representatives of approximately 15,000,000 Catholic laymen in the United States met in convention yesterday at the Hotel La Salle to complete the organization of the National Catholic Laymen's council.

The new association will be made up of representatives of all national Catholic organizations and of every diocese in the United States. These will be selected on a basis of one representative for every 50,000 members.

Plans of the convention include the coördination of all Catholic activities throughout the nation in order that collective action may be taken on questions of national interest. Yesterday's session was devoted to organization and the appointment of committees.

Plans were made for a fund of $15,000,000, a contribution of $1 from each member. This fund will be used as an endowment and will be placed at interest, the income to be used for current expenses of the organization.

A committee named to draft a program of organization was composed of Thomas H. Cannon, Chicago, chairman; Thomas P. Flynn, Chicago; Richmond Dean, Chicago; Fred Kenkel, St. Louis; and Benedict Elder, Louisville.

An executive committee of twelve members is expected to be appointed today.

Among the prominent Catholics attending the meeting are Bishop Joseph Schrembs, Toledo, O.; Anthony Matre, secretary of the American Catholic federation; M. J. Slattery, secretary of the Catholic Young Men's National union, Philadelphia; John F. Martin, representing the Knights of Columbus, Green Bay, Wis.; and John J. Burke, New York.

A California Cheese.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. — [Special Correspondence.]—Circular No. 206 of the University of Agriculture, Berkeley, Cal., is on Jack cheese. No. 207 is on Neufchatel cheese. Both were issued in February, 1919, and must be of interest to women who want to make small amounts of cheese.

The other name for Jack cheese is Monterey cheese. It is a good American cheese, which originated in Monterey county, Cal., in 1892, and "the method grew out of a need for disposing of surplus milk at a small expense for equipment. The fact that it requires but little equipment makes it a practical method on farms where only a small amount of milk is available.

Not until 1912 was this cheese known outside of California and, previous to the war nearly all Jack cheese made was full cream or "table" Jack. The war brought the need for a grating cheese. This bulletin tells in great detail how to make it.

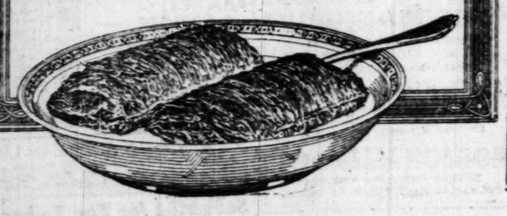
THE DISCOVERY OF "VITAMINES"

The study of beriberi and pellagra led to the discovery of a group of food essentials known as "vitamines." They are necessary to normal nutrition and to normal growth. They are found in the whole wheat grain. In making Shredded Wheat Biscuit all the vitamines are retained—all the elements that are needed for building a perfect body. Two of these little loaves of baked whole wheat with milk or cream (or hot water) make a nourishing, satisfying meal for a few cents.



Chicagoans to Attend Zionist Convention

Judge Hugo Pam, chairman of the Chicago branch of the Palestine Restoration fund, will lead a delegation of fifty members east Saturday for the convention of the Zionist Organization of America, to be held in New York Sunday and Monday.

At a meeting of the local committee in the Hotel Sherman last night workers for the $1,000,000 quota of Chicago and Illinois reported subscriptions of $300,000.

The campaign was to have closed last night, but Judge Pam announced it would be continued for four weeks.

The Chicago members of the national executive committee of the Zionists are Judge Pam, Nathan D. Kaplan, Max Shulman, and B. A. Entonow.

'Y. W.' Captains Meet to Plan for Drive

Thirty team captains for the campaign to raise $1,000,000 for the Young Women's Christian association met yesterday with Mrs. Morris L. Johnston, one of the leaders of the campaign, at the Central Y. W. C. A. branch at 59 East Monroe street. Plans were made to cover the city with information about the work of the association in obtaining relief for the housing situation among business women and to raise the fund with which it is planned to build residence and recreation centers for the girls.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Secretly Engaged.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young girl of 16 and am five feet six inches tall. Do you think I am too tall for my age? I have dark brown hair and blue eyes and black eyebrows and lashes. I have even white teeth.

"I am deeply in love with a young man of 19. He is very good looking and has a good reputation. We are engaged, and I have received a diamond from him. My parents did not know of our engagement till just recently, and they object very, very much and want to make me break our engagement and return the ring.

"I know that if I should be compelled to do this it would break my heart. Do you think I should elope with him or let my heart break? I am in the junior grade at High school.

"W."

There's no need for your heart to break over the matter, sweet 16. And besides you will find the average heart isn't made of as breakable material as youth fancies. It can be battered around all over the place and, strange as it may seem, come out sometimes the better for the rough treatment. Not that I'm wishing any such trouble on you, my dear, but I would like to see you give back the diamond to please your parents and wait two years at least until you are through school before making any serious decision in your life.

There was a circus parade due in town, but as it was the busy season on the farm Albert stood small chance of seeing it. At breakfast he remarked, "I'd like to see somebody make me go to that parade." M. D.

Marie was over at a neighbor's house and saw their little white dog. Remembering her little "Brownie" at home, she said: "We've got a dog just like yours only it's feathers aren't the same color!" A. T. R.

My son had a bad earache and his older sister wanted to take care of it for him. She coaxed him a while and finally he said, "All right; if you give me some unconsciousness I will."

Silk Knitted Cravats
$2.45 Each

Remarkably fine all-silk fashion-knit, open-end cravats—of qualities that men will recognize immediately as out-of-the-ordinary. And, while slight imperfections occur, in most instances they are hardly discernible, and in no way is the service or attractiveness of these cravats impaired.

There are Grenadine weaves in plain patterns and heather mixtures, crocheted cravats in cross-striped patterns, knitted cravats in attractive two-tone colors. A most unusual variety of patterns is included, $2.45 each.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & CO

Announcing a Special Selling at Extremely Moderate Prices of 200 Knitted Top-Coats at $35

300 All-Wool Suits at $45

Occasions of this kind happen only at long intervals—so men and young men should take advantage of such pricing, not only to supply present requirements but those which may come later on.

Such knitted top-coats as these are being worn by well-dressed men everywhere. These suits are of all-wool fabrics so well-tailored and finished that at this pricing they offer value of the most pronounced character.

The top-coats—are well-made and finished, designed in three styles; the close-fitting coat, the loose effect and the belted style, in green, brown, heather and gray, and in all sizes from 34 to 44-inch chest measure.

The all-wool suits—come in styles for men and young men; of attractive mixtures in brown, green and gray. Some have single-breasted, others double-breasted coats and they come in all sizes.

These pricings can be maintained only while the present quantities last, so early selection is advised.

LABOR WAKES UP TO FACT IT AIDS PROFITEERING

Finds Low Production Really Cuts Wages.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

The universal grouch against the profiteer is one quite natural cause of the letdown in individual output in industry, but the workers themselves give signs of waking to the fact that short production simply serves to make the profiteer all the fatter.

Prosperity is measured not so much by high wages or low wages as by the purchasing power of wages—the number of days a man has to work to provide the necessaries of life. High wages, but low labor cost are the gateway.

By reducing the output, the labor cost in an article is increased; the manufacturer makes it up by putting it on the price; the middleman figures his toll on the net result; the retailer has to place his profit on top of that, and by the time the product gets to the consumer it puts a great nick in high wages.

Textile Workers Slow.

The textile industry is reputed to be one in which wages and output have perhaps traveled the farthest distance apart. In the cotton mills of New England production per man is reported to have taken an even greater slump than in the building trades. Every other worker feels the effect when he goes to the dry goods counter. When wages and materials go up, say double, but output, despite the high returns, falls off, the result is inevitable.

Management appears to share the blame at least fifty-fifty with labor in lines where a drop in output has come. The National Cash Register company recently checked up its production and found a great falling off from pre-war days. In May, 1913, it turned out 14,750 cash registers, and its monthly output for 1919 was over 12,000.

In 1919 its largest month's output was 8,600, this with about the same force of employés, with more space, and better equipment. November, 1919, as compared with May, 1913, showed that productive efficiency of the plant was down to about 68 per cent. In other words, the output was 32 per cent less per man than before the war.

Conferences Are Held.

The president of the company, J. H. Patterson, called a series of conference in which the situation was studied in all its details, and the output for 1920 is expected to be increased well towards the 1913 normal, this most largely through better management and by cooperation through an employés' advisory board elected by the employés. In a report of these meetings the magazine Factory says:

"The best that was gotten was a solid conviction that the reduced efficiency was not a problem which could not be dealt with. All more or less had been laying it to a state of mind on the part of labor—something against which they felt helpless. But now, from the management to the job foremen, they all realised that the trouble was largely, if not mostly, on their side. Because they thought they couldn't keep up production they hadn't really been trying to keep it up. The meetings got them to blaming labor less and looking more to their own shortcomings."

Since then, it may be noted, production at the cash register plant has been steadily climbing.

Some Maintain Efficiency.

Similarly, one association in Chicago reports that seventy-five paper box and folding box factories in its membership are maintaining 100 per cent productive efficiency as compared with prewar standards. The plants are nonunion shops; they employ 3,500 to 4,500 workers; their weekly output is as large as four or six years ago, except for such shortages as are caused by lack of materials.

Among the foundrymen of Chicago, too, in the union shops, which are largely upon piecework, reports are that the molders are putting out as much in a day as before the war.

"It's the result of good management," said one expert. "The men are willing enough to give an honest day's work so long as they know the management expects it."

BOOZELESS HOBO NOW BOOKWORM AND MOVIE FAN

Knights of West Madison and South Clark streets, to whom booze and beer meant happiness a year ago, have become bookworms and movie fans. Dr. John P. Brushingham, secretary of the morals commission, yesterday announced he discovered this in a two weeks' investigation of the lodging house districts. Here are some of Dr. Brushingham's conclusions:

The enforcement of dry legislation is at least 92 per cent efficient.

Blood diseases are on the wane.

Tuberculosis and alcoholic pneumonia cases are less numerous as a result of prohibition.

"Before prohibition there were from fifteen to twenty-five drug addicts in the house of correction hospital, and now the average is four," Dr. Brushingham said. "Formerly one could find more than a hundred intoxicated persons in the lodging house districts nightly. Now there are only a dozen."

19 Election Officials Are Indicted for Frauds

Five more indictments against nineteen election officials were returned by the grand jury before Chief Justice Crowe yesterday. They are the result of "short penciling" and erasures discovered in a recount of November, 1918, election ballots.

ZOO MOURNS HER

Widow Giraffe Dies of Paralysis at Lincoln Park.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Molly, the big giraffe of the Lincoln park zoo, died yesterday. She was a victim of paralysis, according to Arthur Parker, keeper of the zoo.

Molly and her mate were presented to the zoo on Oct. 6, 1913, by Mrs. Netcher Newbury, owner of the Boston Store. Molly had been a widow for five years.

"She was quite a fine old lady," said Mr. Parker, "and she lived in captivity for seven years. That's a long time for a giraffe."

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

OHIO SOCIETY banquet, Hotel Sherman, May 14.

GARRITY'S CRIME drive last week netted 782 arrests.

AN EVANSTON school bulletin advocates a longer school day and year.

SIX FAMILIES are homeless after a $15,000 fire at 5322-24 Calumet avenue.

NORTH SHORE town improvements approximating $1,000,000 have been halted by high cost.

BONIFACES from all over the country are congregating for the hotel show which opens Monday at the Coliseum.

W. F. PURDY, 62, retired farmer, 5042 Calumet avenue, was found unconscious from gas. He is recovering.

HARRY GURTS of St. Louis confessed killing John Keegan, bartender in the Green Corners saloon near Lyons.

ISADORE GOLDBERG was sent to prison for the Klein loan bank robbery—the last of the trio to be sentenced.

JEWELS, ETC., worth $3,500, vanished simultaneously with the new maid of Mrs. C. L. Morgan, 2910 Pine Grove avenue.

JOSEPH RADLOW, a chemist, sued R. T. O'Connor, saloon keeper at 6200 Cottage Grove, for $50,000 for false arrest. O'Connor claimed he paid Radlow $4,000 for whisky never delivered. Radlow denied it and was arrested. The case was dismissed for want of prosecution.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

It was stated in THE TRIBUNE yesterday that funeral services for Edwin A. Graff, president of the Columbia Malting company, would be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at his late residence, 4907 Kimbark avenue. The services will be at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

In reporting the death of Mrs. Bridget O'Brien, 4118 Washington boulevard, THE TRIBUNE yesterday stated she was a sister of Mrs. Robert M. Sweitzer. Mrs. Sweitzer is a sister of Mrs. Peter O'Brien, wife of one of the five sons of Mrs. Bridget O'Brien.

SUE EX-OFFICIAL AS GAY SPLURGER ON FIRM'S MONEY

Freezeout, Says Frisbie of $30,000 Action.

Financial aid to the Billy Sunday campaigns and to churches, purchase of flowers for friends, and payment of bills for hotel parties, and trips for himself and friends, are some of the ways in which Chauncey O. Frisbie is alleged to have spent $30,000 of the funds of the Cornell Wood Products company, according to a suit filed against him in the Circuit court yesterday for recovery of that amount.

Mr. Frisbie, who was president of the Wisconsin company for five years, characterised the suit as a "game of freeze out."

Urged Movies in Church.

Attorney Jacob Newman, representing the company, said a similar suit had been filed at Chippewa Falls, Wis., together with an attachment proceeding to restrain Frisbie from taking possession of $100,000 worth of stock in the company, alleged to have been presented to him when he became president.

Mr. Frisbie became president of the Cornell company after he had served as a traffic manager for Armour & Co. Before that he was president of the Chicago Tunnel company, succeeding the late A. C. Wheeler. He is now identified with the Shell-O-Phone Talking Machine company, 220 South State street.

He gained considerable publicity in 1917, when he resigned as superintendent of the La Salle Avenue Baptist church Sunday school because the deacons opposed his attempts to introduce moving pictures in the church.

Charity, Clubs, Autos, Milk.

The bill filed yesterday alleges, among other things, that Frisbie expended the company's cash for:

Railroad expenses totaling $136, for Gordon A. Ramsay, public administrator of Cook county, from Chicago to San Francisco and return.

"Traveling expenses of $115," so either Ramsay or H. M. Webster could "attend the Republican national convention" in 1916. This convention was held in Chicago.

Gifts of $600 to the Billy Sunday campaign here; $500 each to the mayors of Newcastle and New Albany, Ind., Charleston and Mattoon, Ill., and Fergus Falls, Minn., believed to have been for tornado relief.

Payment of $7,007 personal bills at the Union League, Hamilton, Rotary, Exmoor, and Bobolink Country clubs and the Minneapolis Athletic club.

Says Churches Got $703.

Payment of $1,648 personal bills at the Congress, La Salle, Morrison, Edgewater Beach, and Sherman hotels.

Automobiles for his own and family use, $3,721; upkeep, $4,221.

Two gifts to churches, totaling $703.

Coal given son, daughter, and others, $511.

Thirty-one Armistice day congratulation messages, $43.

In the forty-two items listed in the bill are also the family milk bills; railroad fare for Mrs. Frisbie and friends and for a Miss Wittenberg, who afterward became Mrs. Chauncey C. Frisbie Jr.; $1,387 personal taxes; a $100 watch, flowers, laundry bills, and golf trips to Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Freezeout, He Says.

"I received notice of the suit this afternoon, and I pronounce it an attempt at a game of freezout," said Mr. Frisbie.

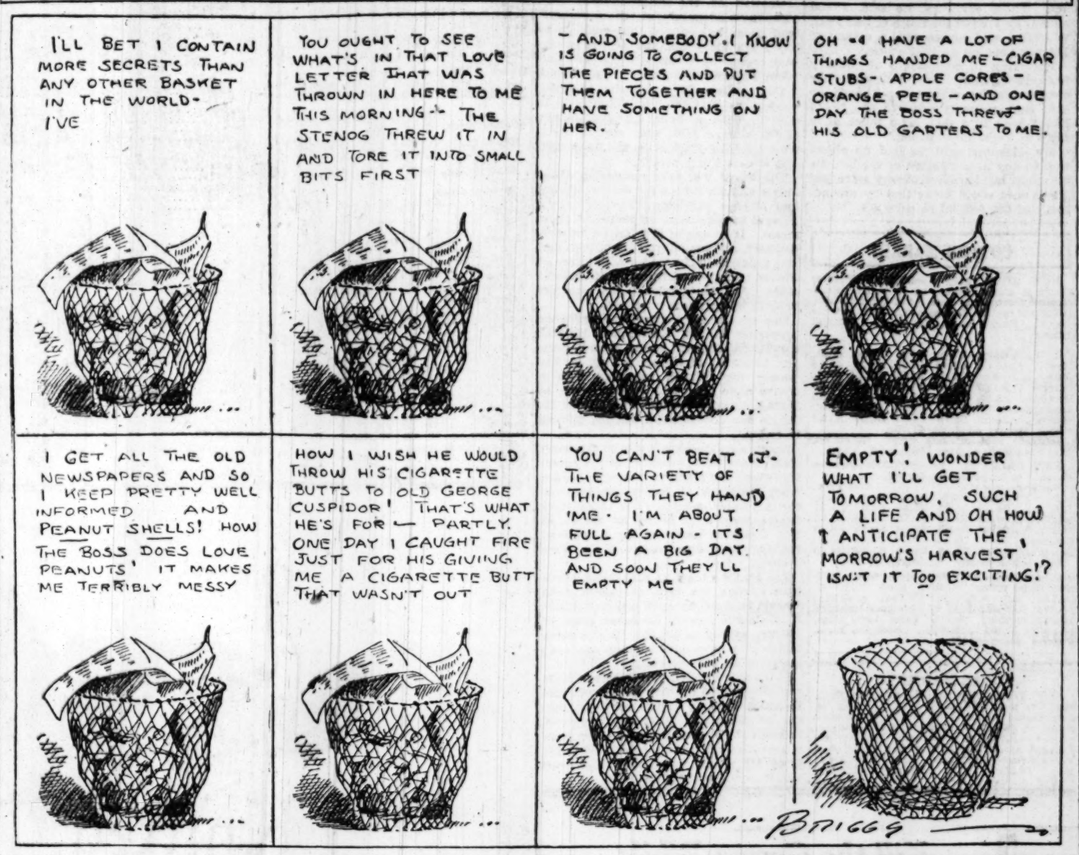
"When I entered the company, seven years ago, it was on its last legs, and through my management it prospered. It is capitalized at $3,500,000, and I own about $400,000 in shares of the stock. The concern made about $500,000 last year.

"I have not seen the bill, and cannot answer its charges in detail at this time. With reference to the charge that I paid out the company's money for railway transportation for Gordon A. Ramsay, I can only say I do not recall any such transaction. There will be a fight, I assure you."

Gas Rates to Stay Same at Least Until Sept. 22

Gas users are safe from an increase in gas rates until next September at least. The state public utilities commission at Springfield yesterday suspended the hearing on the proposed rate schedule of the People's Gaslight and Coke company until Sept. 22. The commission is expected to begin taking evidence on the petition for higher rates soon. It will sit in Chicago.

WONDER WHAT A WASTE BASKET THINKS ABOUT



I'LL BET I CONTAIN MORE SECRETS THAN ANY OTHER BASKET IN THE WORLD- I'VE
YOU OUGHT TO SEE WHAT'S IN THAT LOVE LETTER THAT WAS THROWN IN HERE TO ME THIS MORNING - THE STENOG THREW IT IN AND TORE IT INTO SMALL BITS FIRST
- AND SOMEBODY - I KNOW IS GOING TO COLLECT THE PIECES AND PUT THEM TOGETHER AND HAVE SOMETHING ON HER.
OH - I HAVE A LOT OF THINGS HANDED ME - CIGAR STUBS - APPLE CORES - ORANGE PEEL - AND ONE DAY THE BOSS THREW HIS OLD GARTERS TO ME.
I GET ALL THE OLD NEWSPAPERS AND SO I KEEP PRETTY WELL INFORMED AND PEANUT SHELLS! HOW THE BOSS DOES LOVE PEANUTS! IT MAKES ME TERRIBLY MESSY
HOW I WISH HE WOULD THROW HIS CIGARETTE BUTTS TO OLD GEORGE CUSPIDOR! THAT'S WHAT HE'S FOR — PARTLY. ONE DAY I CAUGHT FIRE JUST FOR HIS GIVING ME A CIGARETTE BUTT THAT WASN'T OUT
YOU CAN'T BEAT IT - THE VARIETY OF THINGS THEY HAND 'ME - I'M ABOUT FULL AGAIN - IT'S BEEN A BIG DAY AND SOON THEY'LL EMPTY ME
EMPTY! WONDER WHAT I'LL GET TOMORROW. SUCH A LIFE AND OH HOW I ANTICIPATE THE MORROW'S HARVEST! ISN'T IT TOO EXCITING!?

SIX OLD BARBERS CALL 'NEXT!' FOR GHOSTS OF PAST

Saratoga Shop Closes; Haunt of Famous.

Twenty-seven years ago "Young Heinie" Ahrens unwrapped his razors and scissors and began his first day's work as a barber in the newly opened Saratoga barber shop in the basement of the then new hotel at 27 South Dearborn street.

Last night "Old Henry" Ahrens sadly gathered up his paraphernalia and, followed by five other white haired barbers, walked out the door. "Doc," the owner, locked up for the last time and left the shop to its memories.

High rent and dwindling trade had closed the shop that had been open day and night since 1893.

The Changing World.

Four of the barbers—Charles Miller, William Hoy, Wylie Walker, and "Bill" Bowser—had seen prices advance from 10 cents a shave to 25 cents, from 15 cents to 50 cents for a haircut, and baths from 15 cents to $2. They had seen fashions change from mustaches and beards to smooth faces.

They remembered when "Old Man" Hannah got up out of his chair and walked out with only half his face shaved because the first manicure, back in 1900, took his hand and asked him "whether he wanted his fingers fixed up."

"What is this?" he asked. "Is she trying to make love to me?"

He Never Came Back.

They remembered how "Jim" Hall, famous pugilist, was reclining in a chair, when an argument arose between him and a "little feller named Rogers." Rogers lost his temper and struck "Jim," knocking him out for twenty minutes. When he learned whom he had struck "the little feller" dashed madly out of the place, leaving his coat and hat. Last night they were produced from a storeroom.

"He never did come back for them," Old Henry said. "We've held them all these years hoping he might show up."

They recalled how John A. Roche, former mayor, used to come there for his baths twice a week, and how he never missed up to his death.

The Battler's Goodby."

"Battling" Nelson dropped in to pay a farewell visit.

"By gollies, it's too bad," he said, as he recalled how his father used to bring him to the shop when he was a "little guy," and how he had patronized the place all through the days of his prime and during these latter years.

"Bat" sat down and "got the works" under "Old Henry's" ministrations as a sort of farewell.

"YOU'RE A HELL OF A POLICEMAN," ALCOCK VERDICT

Passes on Cop Who Failed as Guard.

The strongest language which has come from the police trial board in many years was used yesterday by Assistant Chief Alcock in describing his estimate of Patrolman Edward S. Nakulski's ability.

The language was beautiful in its simplicity. The first deputy, after listening to the evidence, turned to Nakulski.

"You are a hell of a policeman," he said.

Failed to See Police.

Nakulski was accused of failing to report to guard the home of W. B. Austin, 103 Bellevue place, against bomb throwers. A patrolman and two sergeants testified he wasn't there. Nakulski declared he was there, but didn't see the men sent to find him."

"You were sent to watch for bomb throwers and couldn't see three policemen, one of whom stayed there all night looking for you," said Assistant Chief Alcock. "You have lied to us and you are a hell of a policeman."

Other Cases Heard.

The board heard evidence against Patrolman J. J. O'Malley, who shot and killed Walter Zahiman, aged 17, but rendered no decision.

Patrolman J. J. Courtney, who has been fined eight times and discharged three times since he joined the force in 1906, was before the board charged with absence from duty.

Verdicts are to be returned today.

ARBITRATE RENT ROWS, SAVE GOLD AND COURTS, PLEA

Settlement of all impending rent controversies by arbitration, so that tenants and landlords may be saved the expense of litigation, was offered to both sides yesterday afternoon by the Chicago real estate board. The action was taken during the regular meeting of the board, at the suggestion of Adolph F. Kramer, president.

"The courts are being cluttered up with rent cases," Mr. Kramer said. "There are many cases where both tenant and landlord are wrong. There is no reason why these difficulties cannot be settled out of court even now."

Landlords continued to pour into the office of the Municipal court clerk yesterday seeking the eviction of tenants.

U. S. Attorney Must O. K. Dry Law Revenue Warrant

Prohibition agents must obtain the written permission of the United States district attorney before they can obtain warrants for arrests under the internal revenue act, according to a ruling received from Washington yesterday. The ruling does not affect warrants charging violation of the prohibition laws.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.

What do you think of the plan of placing flowers on the grave of every soldier in France?

The Answers.

ABE GOODMAN, 635 East Fiftieth street, a haberdasher—I am strongly in favor of the plan. It is the very least we can do for the ones who died for us.

FRANK M. NOCKLES, 1440 Foster avenue, an electric engineer—It is a god way of showing our appreciation of their service. A mighty good plan.

A. E. GIFFORD, 6425 Greenwood avenue, a secret service operative—Very good. I saw a year of service over there, and I got a bonus. We certainly should give them a bonus, at least a thought in this manner.

H. L. TRILLING, Chicago Athletic association, a cotton grower—Of course it will be hard to find some of the graves of our soldiers. The idea is good, however. I think there should be a collective memorial service there for all of the men who died, just as we have here, you know.

A. G. GROS, Missoula, Mont., a salesman—A good idea. We can't forget them, yon know. I expect the French people will hold services for our dead there if we don't, but I would give a lot to place a few roses on the grave of a Yank who was killed.

(Editor's Note.)—Tuesday afternoon the Inquiring Reporter stopped a stranger on a loop street and asked him what he had done to assist the spring cleanup campaign. The stranger gave his name as R. J. Dunham of 1450 North State street, and his business as a banker. His answer was "Me? About all I've done is to try my best to clean up the banking situation. There doesn't seem to be enough money to go around and everybody wants to borrow."

Mr. Dunham writes that the stranger was none other than Howard F. Gillette of 1350 North State street, who, being a friend, put over a little joke on the I. R. However, Mr. Dunham adds that Mr. Gillette is "worthy of filling the position of managing partner in the international European banking house of Rothschild, where his abilities might have full play and scope, and that no one in the United States today is better qualified to pass judgment on all world-wide economic and banking problems."

ARSON, MURDER PLOT, IN WAKE OF WIZARD "NICKY"

Wall Street Gang Eager to Confess; Girl Involved.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Details of a plot which culminated last June in the burning of a boat in the canal in Montreal, the threatened killing of James Kean, informer in the $5,000,000 bond plot, and the trapping of a one time Montreal policeman by Saul S. Meyers, counsel in the Arnstein-Sullivan & Co. bankruptcy proceedings were features of confessions obtained in the last two days.

The confessions were made by "Big Bill" Furey, now in the Tombs under $50,000 bail in connection with the bond plot; David Joseph Haines, the Montreal ex-policeman, and James Kean, who, up to several months ago, was the manager of the Montreal branch of a detective agency.

Tells of Oceanic Arson.

Haines confessed that, in the presence of Kean, he set fire to the Oceanic, a small vessel, and that they were hired to burn the boat by a Capt. Bauvais of Montreal. Furey testified that Kean told him the details of the burning of the vessel and admitted that six weeks later he accompanied Kean and Haines to the office of a man named Fitch in this city, where both he and Kean posed as fire insurance detectives, assigned to investigate the burning of the Oceanic.

The threat to "knock off" Kean was contained in a letter which Furey sent to the former detective while he was residing in the Claridge hotel several days after Furey, "Joe" Gluck, and the latter's brother, Irving, had been lodged in the Tombs under $100,000 bail in connection with the plot.

Other Details of Plot.

Joseph Gluck had testified previously that he and Furey journey to Montreal from Cleveland to see Kean to arrange for his disposing of the $5,000,000 worth of securities, which Gluck had arranged to steal from brokerage houses in the financial district a few days later.

One development tonight in the bond plots was the failure of the police to wring an admission from Leroy Gardiner, 15, that he was the Harriman & Co. messenger who disappeared with $138,000 worth of securities on March 29.

Testimony given by Furey told how the dishonest messenger boys gathered in the lobby of the Woolworth building to surrender the bonds they had stolen. Furey said he selected the Woolworth building because it was centrally located.

David W. Sullivan was in the Tombs on an indictment charging him with receiving from "Nicky" Arnstein and "Nick" Cohen more than $600,000 worth of securities, which Gluck had obtained from the dishonest messengers; and Furey, Gluck testified, had urged him to resume the business of stealing bonds, now that Sullivan, Arnstein, and Cohen were out of the way.

How Kean "Squealed."

Kean, according to the testimony, turned informer on Gluck and Furey two days after he arrived in this city in the early part of February, last, ostensibly to take back to Montreal the $5,000,000 worth of securities which were to be stolen in one day.

He not alone "squealed" to the police at headquarters, but he signed an agreement with the manager of one of the surety companies to aid in the recovery of stolen securities.

Employés and books of banking and brokerage houses in Montreal, Toronto and Quebec will be examined in the hunt for the securities and for traces of their marketers, it was announced today by Attorney Meyers.

The trail of Cohen is leading to the west, Meyers said. Indications pointed to Cleveland as his hiding place, according to advices received here.

A Woman in Case.

Testimony of Miss Raye Cohen, "Nick" Cohen's sister, before United States Commissioner Gilchrist recently, concerned a mysterious "woman in the case," a Miss Margaret Meeker, said to be a member of a well known New England family who had met Cohen while she was studying art in Greenwich Village, New York's "Bohemia."

Miss Cohen said she had seen the girl here in March, well after the hunt for Arnstein and Cohen had been started, packing two trunks for shipment to California. One of these, Miss Cohen said she admitted, contained clothes belonging to Cohen.

$11,000 Bond Returned.

Through the arrest today of a man whose identity was not disclosed, mystery surrounding the theft last February of securities valued at $210,000 from Halle and Stieglitz, a brokerage firm, has been cleared up, according to Assistant District Attorney Dooling. An $11,000 stock certificate stolen from this firm was received anonymously in the mail by Dooling.

MRS. BRENNAN AND DAUGHTER TURN UP O. K.

Mrs. Ruth Brennan, 21 years old, and her infant daughter, Shirley, both objects of a police search in Waukegan and Chicago since last Thursday, were found yesterday.

They have been staying since their "disappearance" at the home of Mrs. Gertrude McKenna at 7 East Chestnut street, a friend of Mrs. Brennan.

"Both Shirley and I want to deny that we have been lost or that anything out of the way has happened to us," said Mrs. Brennan to a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday afternoon.

"I can't understand why Mrs. Needles in Waukegan ever told the police that Mr. Brennan and I had ever fought or that he was a draft dodger. This whole tale seems to have been concocted out of thin air."

There was an upturn in nearly all kinds of live stock, with top cattle at $14.25, best hogs at $15.50, and choice wooled lambs as high at $21.00.

Cattle were mostly 25c higher and late in the day some hogs showed 50c gain over Tuesday's low time, while lambs advanced 25c.

Competition between local and outside buyers was lively and closing trade was best of the day, with comparatively little stock unsold at the finish.

The day's average price of hogs at $14.30 was 20c higher. A year ago the average price at $21.20 was highest during May, 1919. Two years ago the average was $17.85, while in 1915 it was down to $7.55.

Seven western markets received 32,000 cattle, 99,000 hogs, and 28,000 sheep, against 27,000 cattle, 91,000 hogs, and 22,000 sheep the previous Wednesday and 38,000 cattle, 115,000 hogs, and 34,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep against 14,794 cattle, 49,183 hogs, and 15,843 sheep at Chicago the corresponding Thursday a year ago.

FEDERAL BANKS' EARNINGS PUT AT $100,000,000

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Earnings of the federal reserve system this fiscal year were estimated at $100,000,000 by Gov. Harding of the federal reserve board, in testifying today at the house rules committee hearing on the resolution proposing an investigation of the administration of the federal reserve act. These earnings, he said, would exceed by $10,000,000 those of last year, which he said represented a return of 110 per cent on capital stock.

Referring to complaints of country bankers against the universal par clearance order of the reserve board, he said such protests were to the board like "fleas to a dog, who must have fleas to know he is a dog."

Mr. Harding said he had no objection to any investigation of the board's methods, but the controversy as to par clearances could be settled by amendment of the federal reserve act.

EAGLE-PICHER LEAD COMPANY BUYS FACTORY

BY AL CHASE.

Growth of the Eagle-Picher Lead company's department of plumbers' lead goods has caused that concern to buy a six story building at the southeast corner of Western boulevard and West Forty-fourth street from Wilson & Co., packers, for a reported $225,000, subject to $117,500. The building is 66x130, with a floor space of about 62,000 square feet, and stands on a tract fronting 108 feet on the boulevard and 450 on Forty-fourth.

The buyer will take possession about July 1 and use it both for manufacturing and storage purposes. The company's general offices are at 208 South La Salle street. It is one of the largest miners, smelters, and manufacturers of lead and zinc products in the world, with mines at Picher, Okla., and factories in several cities. J. J. Harrington & Co. were the brokers in the above purchase.

One of the most attractive residence properties in the Washington Heights district has changed hands. John S. Capper, president of Capper & Capper, has bought the 106x300, improved with a twelve room brick and cement house, at 10226 Longwood avenue, from Harry M. Tingle for an indicated $35,500, subject to $9,000.

Another residence sale was on the north side. Felix Notz, president of the American Oven and Machine company, bought from Frederick E. Smith, president of the Aermotor company, the three story twelve room brick house, lot 32x131, at 1531 Dearborn parkway, for a reported $26,500. Paul Steinbrecher & Co. were brokers.

The 50x178 vacant at 2512 South Michigan avenue has been purchased from Harold H. Swift by Adolph L. and Albert Z. Halperin for an indicated price of $50,000, subject to $22,000. A one story building to be erected already has been leased to an auto concern.

In the sale by Glenwood Preble to Murray Wolbach of the four store and fourteen flat building at the northeast corner of State and Fifty-eighth streets, through F. W. Grapperhaus, there were other considerations not mentioned in the filing for record which made the price $60,000, subject to $34,000.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.

The official weather forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follows:

Ohio, Indiana, and Upper Michigan—Fair Thursday and Friday; no change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Fair Thursday and Friday; no change in temperature; gentle winds, mostly east and southeast.

Missouri—Fair Thursday, probably becoming unsettled Friday; not much change in temperature.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Montana—Fair Thursday and Friday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Fair Thursday; Friday mostly cloudy, probably becoming unsettled; not much change in temperature.

South Dakota—Cloudy Thursday; Friday fair, not much change in temperature.

Nebraska—Mostly cloudy and somewhat unsettled Thursday and Friday; not much change in temperature.

Kansas—Mostly cloudy Thursday and Friday; probably with showers in west portion Thursday and in east portion Thursday night or Friday; not much change in temperature.

Wyoming—Generally fair Thursday and Friday, except unsettled in southeast portion Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Don't Blame the Cow

The man who doesn't know how to milk can't blame the cow.

And if you don't know where your business stands, don't blame it if it doesn't pay a profit.

The "go-getters" in business do not depend on rush demand entirely nor do they expect to have things all in their favor all the time. They are always studying how to put more intensive, aggressive selling into their organizations to develop unsuspected market opportunities—to boost instead of knock.

They get down to the bed rock of business operation—put in more time-saving and labor-saving apparatus, and more efficient methods.

They check all the figure facts that give a basis for comparison of results and show where the profit comes from.

It goes without saying that ability to read figures—and to get them properly and easily—is a big factor. In fact, you can almost size up a man's real knowledge of his business by asking him if he still keeps his books by hand or if he gets a daily balance with a Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine.

Nowadays one can't have the volume of sales information necessary, or get it quickly enough, or economically enough by pen-and-ink methods.

Some of the things worked out by other Chicago concerns will interest you. Glad to give you an introduction to them, if you desire it.

Some Reasons Why a Daily Balance is Desirable

Saves Time

Work of balancing accounts spread over entire month. Thus, month-end overtime is avoided.

Assures Accuracy

Tells exact condition of any individual account at any time. No need to stop and foot up debits and credits and strike a balance, or to guess at it.

Quick, Accurate Proof of Posting

Instead of proving merely that right amounts and all items have been posted, you prove that the balance on each account is correct. Where the balance is extended only once a month extension is not proved unless you have to check back for errors.

Prompt, Easy Trial Balance and Statements

You don't have to delay statements until the balance is obtained, or risk inaccuracies where statements are mailed before balancing.

The proof system as employed with daily balances serves as a check on the Controlling Accounts.

Credit Information More Readily Obtained

Credit man can look up accounts without bothering someone else.

Credit Manager or Sales Manager can look back over an account for a period of months to find the highest credit that has ever been extended.

Daily balances detect any excess of credit limit established by the Credit Manager on each account.

Sales Manager can see at a glance the purchases, by months of any customer, also purchases to date at any time.

Makes a good impression on a customer if you can tell him instantly how his account stands.

It makes a good impression on other firms who inquire about an individual's credit standing if you can tell them instantly.

Credit Department is enabled to locate delinquent accounts before the month-end.

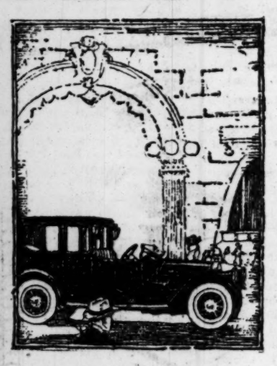
PERFORMANCE & PRESTIGE



It is the performance of a Pierce-Arrow as well as the prestige that prompts a desire to possess.

Performance is the expression of hidden engineering accomplishments—the power and flexibility of Dual Valves, the extra energy of twin sparks, firing simultaneously, the instant response to a light touch on the steering wheel, the silent meshing of gears in shifting at top speed.

Pierce-Arrow prestige is the result of owner satisfaction; performance is the cause of the buying inspiration.

...There is a credit stringency, certain... ...but what is needed is that our big ...ufacturers and industries put on the ...ake to a mild degree. The banks are ...ndeavoring to check ill judged business ...xpansion by carefully scrutinizing their ...ans, granting credit for legitimate ...eeds but refusing it for speculative ...purposes.

...But too many persons confuse the ...redit situation with the money sit...

...There is no dearth of money ...t every one who has business with the ...anks should clearly understand that ...e banks now, as in the past, are per... ...ly able to meet every claim of their ...epositors. Under the federal reserve ...ct the banks are always able to ob... ...ll the cash they may need. There... ...talk of a panic is not only idle but ...alicious.

Money Situation Strong.

...The money medium of the country ...s increased about $2,500,000,000 since ...e this country holds about 40 per cent ...the world's total gold supply, and the ...ves of the banks as a whole under ...federal reserve system are being ...ntained above the 40 per cent mark. ...Contrast these reserves with those of ...Bank of England, which during the ...and now has maintained reserves ...ging between 13 and 19 per cent. The Banks' Burden.

...The method of our government's ...ancing of the war has resulted in one ...our greatest banking burdens. The ...erty bonds were practically forced on ...banks and on the people and the in... ...t rates were not made high enough. ...result has been that the bond is... ...were not thoroughly distributed, ...e has not been sufficient incentive ...many people to hold them, and they ...e been thrown on the market for sale ...wn back on the banks as security ...loans.

Short Term Notes With High Yield

Of the notes recently issued by the large corporations, there are certain ones that are uncommonly attractive as a sound investment combined with large return and short time to run. We have selected eight of them, which are the securities of nationally-known corporations, exceptionally sound and with good financial records. We investigated these securities carefully before we invested our own money in them. Seldom have we had such a list presenting so unusual an opportunity in large return, in companies so sound. Over a quarter of a century of conservative experience is behind our judgment.

We have just published a concise digest in pamphlet form showing the various attractive features, yield, maturities, price, etc. A review of this circular will convince you of the opportunity. Send for it—you incur no obligation.

MAY CORN UP; OTHER MONTHS CLOSE LOWER

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

An absence of the aggressive short covering, so conspicuous on Tuesday, combined with better crop reports and sunshine, made for weaker and lower corn and oat markets. At no time were the deferred deliveries as high as the previous day's close and the finish was at net losses of 1½@1⅝c on corn and 1@1¼c on oats. May corn acted tight and gained 1c, while May oats dropped 1⅞c. Rye was off 1⅞@2c and barley 1½c at the finish.

Local sentiment was more disposed to the selling side, the technical position of the markets having been greatly weakened by the heavy short covering of late. On the breaks, however, there was persistent buying on resting orders, and a strong rally came toward the last. Corn at the extreme low was off 3c and oats 2¾c.

Longs Go After Profits.

A majority of the leading commission houses continue to advocate extreme caution on both sides of the market. With the underlying factors regarded as rather bearish, there was a pronounced disposition on the part of scattered longs to take profits. Selling on scale orders was a factor in checking the bulges.

It was the first day so far this season for more favorable crop reports, and they had considerable effect on the market. The rail situation also was better, more switching being reported in the South Chicago district. Consignment notices on corn were received from the west in larger volume.

Cash corn was in light supply at the leading markets, and prices at Chicago were higher, with No. 2 yellow at $1.98, a new top on the present advance. On the other hand, oats were weak and lower, with premiums off ½@1c. Feed dealers bought 25,000 bu of No. 2 white in store at $1.14¼, or 9c over May, and 10,000 bu of No. 3 white at 7c over. Deliveries at Winnipeg, 21,000 bu. Canadian ports cleared 1,250,000 bu oats for Canadian ports.

Realizing Sales in Rye.

Houses with northwestern connections were on both sides of the rye market, but the undertone was easy and the close lower. Eastern demand for cash grain was slow. Premiums in the spot market were 1c lower, with No. 2 quoted 1c over May.

Barley was unchanged to 1c higher, with sales at $1.59½@1.88, the latter a new high on the crop. Demand for thin kinds was slower. Deliveries, 20,000 bu.

Better Tone in Provisions.

Provisions closed at about the best prices, with lard up 10@15c, short ribs 5c lower to 5c higher, and pork 10c higher. Investment buying and short covering were fairly active, with selling pressure reduced, except early on the bearish stock report.

Packers report a better trade south for dry salted meats, and the ham trade is better.

Deliveries were 1,000,000 lbs of lard. Hog receipts are larger, but future supplies are not expected to be heavy.

WORLD'S-GRAIN MARKET-NEWS

A continuation of rapid price fluctuations in corn and oats is expected, according to a majority of commission house opinions last night. In the main the opinions were bearish. It was regarded as significant that new outside buying was lacking yesterday, while there was persistent selling by longs on scale orders. One of the best posted men in the trade said he would not be surprised to see a general rush or profit taking at any time. Should it develop he cannot see where support will come from, in view of the heavy short covering of late.

No severe break in grains is anticipated by many traders until there is a settlement of the rail strike and pressure from the cash grain. While prices are high, as compared with pre-war levels, they call attention to the fact that prices do not fill short sales, and say those who sell July corn and oats short may have a hard time to get them back at a profit.

September oats Tuesday were up to 78¾c, the highest of the season. On July 23 last year they sold at 82¾c, or ¾c over July, on the poor crop prospects. At the same time July touched 82c. The latter sold at 93c Tuesday, or 11c over the high; at the time September was at the top. In 1917 July sold at 90c. Crop reports yesterday were better and reports from Iowa said the seeding was about over.

Board of Trade officials and members conferred yesterday afternoon on the reopening of the wheat trading. The desire was to get a consensus of the feeling among the trade. It was generally agreed that trading in wheat futures should be resumed as early as consistently possible with existing conditions.

Indian wheat crop is officially estimated at 368,000,000 bu, or 86,000,000 bu in excess of last year, and 18,000,000 bu less than in 1918. Normal domestic requirements are 320,000,000 bu, which should leave 48,000,000 bu for export. The Indian government, however, still refuses to permit exports.

"There is no immediate prospect of famine, either at home or abroad," according to John Inglis, the Logan & Bryan crop expert. He figures that there is a possibility of harvesting 500,000,000 bu winter and 300,000,000 bu spring wheat, which, with an estimated carry over of 150,000,000 bu, would give a total of 950,000,000 bu, or only 49,000,000 bu less than was available for the 1919-'20 season.

Country shippers who have corn loaded and can get it billed out can ship it to the Corn Products company, Argo, Ill., care Indiana Harbor Belt railroad at Chicago, and get the average price of the market the day it is inspected.

CROP REPORTS BETTER

General run of crop reports showed considerable improvement as the result of dry and warmer weather. Returns to G. B. Van Ness, J. E. Bennett, Bartlett-Frazier, E. W. Wagner, and Lamson Bros. showed that seeding of oats was practically completed in Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa, and that early oats were coming up nicely. Plowing for corn is progressing rapidly with some planting already being done in the three states.

Government weekly report said winter wheat made slow progress in most sections, but condition of the crop was fair to good. Unfavorable weather has put spring wheat seeding much behind. Planting of corn making slow progress. Warmer weather with sunshine needed in practically all sections, especially the more northern states.

Many sections of Kansas report condition of winter wheat as never better, as shown by the state weekly report as wired to J. E. Bennett & Co. Wheat is jointing in the eastern part of the state and beginning to head in Sumner county. No damage from insects. From 75 to 90 per cent of the corn planting in southeastern and southwestern counties. In some places it is 3 to 6 inches high. In others planting just beginning. Oats and barley in good condition.

Farm work on the average is 10 to 20 days later than usual, as shown by returns to the Price-Current-Grain Reporter.

STOCK DIVIDENDS

A number of stock dividends, ranging from 33 1-3 to 400 per cent, were reported yesterday. These include the following:

The Paige-Detroit Motor company declared a stock dividend of 33 1-3 per cent on the common stock, payable to holders of record May 10. A stock dividend of 33 1-3 per cent was also declared by the Chandler Motor Car company, payable June 10 to stock of record June 1.

The Whitaker-Glessner company of Pittsburgh declared a 400 per cent common stock dividend.

The Brown Shoe company has declared a common stock dividend of 33 1-3 per cent, increasing its common stock from $6,300,000 to $8,400,000. The dividend is payable to holders of record June 19.

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company has announced plans for the distribution of a 200 per cent stock dividend on both classes of common stock, payable on class B common, and the reduction of par value of both classes of common from $100 to $25.

Stockholders of the Stutz Motor Car company ratified the recommendation of the directors for an issue of 80,000 additional shares, recently declared as a stock dividend.

Union Bag and Paper company stockholders approved the plan for increasing the capital stock of the corporation from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. Under this plan the board of directors is to distribute a stock dividend of 50 per cent on May 20 to stockholders of record May 10.

At a meeting of the directors of the Independent Pneumatic Tool company it was decided to distribute three shares of no par value for each share outstanding of $100 par to stockholders of record May 15. This action follows that of the stockholders, who recently voted to chance the capital stock from 30,000 shares of $100 par value to 90,000 shares of no par value.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Potato prices advanced 5@6 10c per 100 lbs, as arrivals were only 30 cars and 113 cars were on track.

Strawberries were delayed in getting in and much of the trade was over before the bulk of the arrivals came up. Sales were at $2.00 to $5.00 per 24 pints from Louisiana.

Storage packed eggs sold at 44¼c for May delivery, with 22 cars taken and 1 car June at 43¾c. A car of refrigerator firsts for September delivery brought 48c. The spot market was unchanged, with arrivals 84,313 cases, against 27,309 cases last year. Live fowls were 1c lower. Arrivals of all poultry were 2 cars and 710 coops.

Buyers of butter held off and prices declined 1 to 1½c. Arrivals were 4,872 tubs. Heavy arrivals in New York, 8,077 tubs, forced prices off 1½c. Argentine butter has arrived there showing poor quality. Boston had a good trade early at full prices, but the weakness in New York was reflected later. Philadelphia was firm on light arrivals.

Morse Corporation.

W. C. E.: The Morse Adding Machine company, which in the past refused information about its finances, has reorganized as the Morse corporation, with an authorized capital of $750,000. It has $511,165 outstanding and proposes to sell $150,000 more. The balance sheet of April 1, after giving effect to the new financing, shows $280,230 of net tangible assets, or $4.25 for each $10 share of stock. In the three months ended March 31, gross sales were $11,691 and net profits $1,949. No report is given of operations during previous years. Stock evidently is merely a speculation at present.

Brief Answers.

J. L., Pekin, Ill.—The Central Illinois Light company has furnished a report of its earnings showing a steady increase for some years past. Fixed charges are now covered more than twice and the preferred dividend has a wide margin of safety.

E. T. D., Sheboygan, Wis.—The Danciger Oil and Refining company had $1,236,636 of stock outstanding at last accounts, and was offering $750,000 more at $1.25. The company has production in Oklahoma and Texas. Little information available.

J. A. A.—The International Motor Truck company will distribute a stock dividend of 100 per cent on May 11 to stock of record May 7.

A. B. T., Corning, Ia.—Copper stocks are all speculations rather than investments. We cannot predict the course of the market.

STOCK EXCHANGE HAS INQUIRY ON REPLOGLE STEEL

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Following its investigation into transactions in Stutz Motor shares which have resulted in the removal of those securities from the list, the stock exchange has instituted an inquiry into recent trade in Replogle Steel stock. Recently the price of this stock has been advancing in a sensational manner. The committee on business conduct of the stock exchange has asked members to report purchases and sales or clearances of Replogle common stock on April 19 to May 4, both dates inclusive.

7% First Mortgage Real Estate Gold Bonds

The present higher cost of money presents an opportunity to purchase a highly secured 7% income return in Chicago real estate First Mortgage Gold Bonds—instead of only the usual 6% bonds.

These bonds are against a (closed) mortgage—free only funded indebtedness—on the equipment, land and building owned in fee simple by the Park Fire Proof Storage Co.—now valued at $1,200,000—3½ times this loan. Earnings are over twice the interest charges. Company organized over 15 years, under same management from beginning.

Every month interest and maturing principal amounts are deposited in Sinking Fund to retire loan. Maturing serially 2 to 5 years. Quarterly interest payments. 2% Normal Income Tax paid at source. Denominations, $100, $500, $1,000. Three-quarters of this issue has been sold already. We have exercised cautious conservatism in assuring ourselves, before purchase, that no element of speculation or protection had been overlooked in these securities. Circulars write or telephone for Circular A 56.

A little boy and a drum—

Let him have all the fun he wants. For all too soon he will grow up and then—the rub-a-dub-dub and the click-click-clack will have lost all their appeal.

Noise is all right in its place BUT—its place is most certainly not in a business office.

Cheer up! The Noiseless Typewriter is all that the name implies and you can have office quiet if you really want it.

Office of the President

Baltimore, April 28th, 1920.

We beg to announce that, commencing May 1st, 1920, we will establish a Branch Office in Chicago and that we have appointed as its Resident Manager,

LIEUTENANT COLONEL HARVEY L. JONES.

There will be no change in the location of our Chicago Office, which will continue at 1021-1025 Insurance Exchange. Phone Wabash 9400.

Our long established and efficient staff of Claim Adjusters under Mr. E. A. Hulburd, and of engineers, inspectors and auditors will continue to serve our Patrons from the same location.

Colonel Jones has been in our service since 1911 and has been advanced to successive promotions on merit only. He served on the Mexican Border and in the World's War in France, was Commanding Officer of the 3rd and 4th Officers' Training Schools at Camp McClellan, was Inspector General of the 29th Division in action, and was Commandant and Chief Instructor of the A. E. F. Military Police Corps Training Schools

Mandel Brothers

—Men's shop, second floor

Continuing the drive for lower prices with an important three-day sale—Thursday, Friday and Saturday:

Raincoat and topcoat combined, $23

The manufacturer was about to move his establishment, and found it convenient and economical to sell us his stock on hand considerably off "list," rather than incur the trouble and expense of moving it to his new location. You reap the benefit of this exigency in a price lower than the lowest heretofore quoted on coats of equal worth.

New tweed, moleskin and cassimere coats,

Bought "at the market" many of the coats would cost you close to twice $23

The assortment of models and patterns is comprehensive for both men and young men. Double and single breasted styles with full belt, half belt or in box effect; in both rough and smooth finish materials; and very remarkable values at $23. Second floor.

Mandel Brothers

Shoe shop, fifth floor

Continuing the drive for lower prices with a sale of 8,700 pairs women's smart low shoes at a record low sale figure

At the very outset of the low shoe season, this exceptional offering will appeal with convincing logic to women who would circumvent prevailing high prices. For these new-vogue low shoes are to be sold several dollars below prevailing quotations—at 9.75.

Finest pumps, oxford ties, 9.75 sailor ties, ribbon ties

This season's latest styles for dress and street; patent leather, satin, black kidskin, brown and tan kidskin, and white buckskin and white kid oxfords, with French high or low heels; American lasts, plain toes, turn soles—no exaggerated toes or vamps. All sizes, and all widths from AAA to D—a fit for every foot. The entire offering is in our own regular styles. Fifth floor.

Continuing the drive for lower prices with men's highest grade silk mixed and mercerized

pajamas less than wholesale, at 6.50

Fine quality silk mixed and highly mercerized pajamas in plain colors with self figures and stripes; made in low neck style and trimmed with fine pearl buttons. This is unquestionably the greatest pajama value we have ever offered. In fact, 6.50 is less than pre-war prices on merchandise of this character.

Men's all-silk and knitted neckwear, 85c

Quite some time since we have seen finely made neckwear at anywhere near this low price. The offering comprises small lots and discontinued lines from our own stock and includes plain colored ties in various silks, plain and heather knitted ties and ties of fancy imported foulards in appropriate designs for now and for summer.

Men's shop, first floor

Mandel Brothers

men's fine hose specially reduced

This is the opportunity for which men have waited, to secure a season's supply of sightly, serviceable half hose—every pair perfect—at a substantial saving.

Men's mercerized silk lisle hose at 45c pair—6 pairs, 2.65

Fine gauge hose with reinforced heels, toes and soles; in black, white, cordovan, tan, navy, gray and champagne.

Men's fine gauge cotton hose, 28c—6 pairs 1.55

Light weight, soft and comfortable; in black, white and new shades. First floor.

Continuing the drive for lower prices with a clearance of

Men's double tipped silk gloves

reduced to 1.05

Closing out a line that is to be discontinued because the gloves are no longer procurable. There is a wide choice of desired colors, and the price reduction approximates one-third.

Gov. Calvin Coolidge Says:

"THE general welfare cannot be provided for in any one act, but it is well to remember that the benefit of one is the benefit of all, and the neglect of one is the neglect of all. The suspension of one man's dividends is the suspension of another man's pay envelope."

The fourth large printing of Governor Coolidge's book, is ready. Every American who wants to think clearly on the problems of the hour should read the clear, vigorous utterances of this unique public man.

"Have Faith in Massachusetts"
